

JACKSONVILLE DAILY EIREANN RATIFIES IRISH TREATY

FINAL VOTE IS CLOSE SHOWING MAJORITY OF SEVEN VOTES IN FAVOR

NEWS IS RECEIVED WITH ENTHUSIASM

Ratification Came After a Day of Heated Controversy—DeValera Breaks Down as He Attempts to Speak on Treaty—Mary MacSwiney Denounces the Action of Dail

DUBLIN, Jan. 7.—The treaty creating the Irish free state was ratified tonight by the Dail Eireann by a majority of seven votes, 64 to 57.

Coincidentally, Eamonn DeValera announced his resignation from the presidency of the Irish republic.

The news was received with the greatest enthusiasm and the patient crowds which had waited for hours outside the University Building in anticipation of a decision, burst into cheers.

Ratification of the treaty came after a day of intense excitement and heated controversy. Altho the result was as had been expected the majority in favor of the agreement was greater than had been counted on almost up to the last minute. A tense strained silence prevailed while the vote was being taken, and a gasp of relief went up from the supporters of the treaty when the result was announced.

A dramatic scene ensued when DeValera stood up and in broken voice which vibrated with emotion, declared that "the republic must be carried on."

SOLDIER BONUS MEASURE TO BE ENACTED SOON

General Agreement is Reached at White House Dinner

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—A general agreement for the enactment of a bonus bill for former service men early in the present session of congress, it was indicated had been reached at the not a white house dinner tonight between President Harding and a number of senators, representatives and members of the cabinet.

The plan contemplates, it was understood that the cost of the bonus will be defrayed, if possible from receipts from the allied ships to the United States. It was said, it was tentatively suggested that a sales tax might be supported by the administration for the purpose.

All the agreements reached tonight were provisional it was emphasized by those who attended and subject to revision if a further canvass of sentiment among Republicans in the house and senate makes it necessary. Other items of legislation under discussion included the permanent tariff and the refunding bill for the allied debt.

The conference lasted from 7 p. m. until midnight and those present said that every possible detail of the legislative situation was discussed, altho it was not intended to draw up definite plans or a definite program until other conferences have been called. It was indicated that President Harding would call in other representatives and senators later to give a broader scope to the discussions. The bonus bill, it was said, would probably be brought up in the senate in the very near future as a result of the negotiations tonight.

WHISKEY STILL EXPLODE; FIREMEN HURT

New York, Jan. 7.—Five firemen were seriously burned when two whiskey stills exploded in the basement of a burning house in Brooklyn late tonight. One of the injured men was not expected to live. After the flames were extinguished, police found seven whiskey stills in the basement as well as 100 five gallon can filled with alcohol and whiskey. The house was untenanted.

TOWNSEND MAKES PLEA IN SENATE FOR COLLEAGUE

Says Newberry is Peer Of Any Man in Senate

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Senator Townsend today made a dramatic climax when Senator Newberry of Michigan, speaking in behalf of his colleague, declared that certain interests had threatened his political life if he voted to sustain the right of Senator Newberry to his seat over the contest initiated by Henry Ford.

Senator Townsend frankly declared that if he consulted only his political future he might be tempted to be silent on the whole question of the Ford-Newberry contest. But with great feeling he declared he could not and would not take the easier path.

The Michigan senator charged that the enemies of Newberry were "trying to deprive him of his seat out of animosity and hatred" characterized Henry Ford as a pacifist who had been thrown into the political ring by President Wilson and asserted that while too much money had been spent in the Michigan campaign for Newberry's good, the chance of no poor man was hurt, because all of the candidates in the three-cornered primary were millionaires.

Describing Senator Newberry as the peer of any man in this chamber, Senator Townsend announced that his colleague would appear on the floor Monday to speak for himself.

Turning to the members on the Democratic side, Senator Townsend told them that there must have been a time when some of them, like Newberry, had suffered from the foolish acts of their friends.

Senator Trammell, Democrat, Florida, denounced the claims for retention by Mr. Newberry of his seat and reviewed the evidence in the court trial and senate investigation. He declared much of the testimony was so full of holes that it was ridiculous to claim it was true.

Among the onlookers today was Alfred Lucking, Henry Ford's counsel. Senator Townsend referred to the presence of Mr. Ford's paid agent in his speech and in that connection mentioned reference by Senator Kenyon, Republican, Iowa in a recent attack on Newberry to the workings of a "social lobby," declaring he knew nothing of such a force but adding that he would rather be subjected to the influences of friendship than to that of bitter partisanship and contemptible underhand dealing.

Mr. Townsend then told the senate that he had seen senators talking with the "paid agent" of Mr. Ford in the senate lobby.

WOULD FIRE ALL MINER OFFICIALS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 7.—Almost 100,000 more automobiles of all classes were licensed during 1921 than for the previous year, according to figures announced today by the state automobile department. Licenses were issued last year for 533,441 passenger automobiles, as compared with 507,762 in 1920, an increase of 79,679. Licenses for trucks in 1921 numbered 79,907, an increase of 14,910 over 1920. There was a decrease in tractor licenses, 124 being issued in 1921, as compared with 310 in 1920.

A total of 670,513 licenses were issued for all classes of automobiles in 1921 as compared with 575,351 in 1920, a total increase of 95,162.

The number of licenses issued for motorcycles decreased last year when 8,935 motorcycles were licensed as compared with 10,597 in 1920.

A total of 69,226 chauffeurs' licenses were issued during the year.

Receipts of the automobile department increased almost $1,000,000 in the twelve month period. In 1920 receipts from all classes of licenses totaled $5,915,705. In 1921 the total was $6,903,307, a gain of $887,602.

A new record is also being set in the issuing of licenses this year. To date more than 100,000 licenses have been issued for passenger cars, more than 15,000 for trucks and more than 1,000 for dealers.

ELKS PURCHASE SITE FOR ITS $3,000,000 MEMORIAL BUILDING

Is Located on Lake Shore Drive in City of Chicago

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Nine hundred thousand members of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks were today notified by the National Memorial commission of the order that the site for the $3,000,000 memorial to their war dead was selected and paid for today.

The site is on Lake Shore Drive at the corner of Lincoln Park where the outer and inner drive converge and give the memorial a beautiful setting from the park and fronts the junction of North Side Boulevards.

The price paid for the site was $500,000, it was announced by John T. Fanning, executive director of the memorial commission, who said that the design for the memorial will be chosen in a national competition of architects.

The building it was announced will be of marble or Bedford stone, 150 feet wide with fifty feet on each side for landscaping. The memorial will house a chapel with the names of 70,000 Elks in the World War and the 1,000 dead engraved in bronze around the walls. In the building will be the executive offices of the order and the editorial offices of the Elks' Magazine.

POISON GAS PUT INTO THE DISCARD BY CONFERENCE

Five Great Powers Join in Agreement

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(By The A. P.)—The Washington conference about completed its armament limitation program today by voting poison gas into the discard.

This prohibition was adopted by the five great powers as applicable among themselves, with an invitation to the rest of the world to join in the agreement.

That left on the armament waiting list of the conference only two topics—limitation of aircraft and general revision of the rules of warfare—and both seemed likely tonight to be passed over without definite action.

An air warfare sub-committee has reported after weeks of study that limitation of airplanes appears impracticable until a conference of wider scope has been convened but suggested that restrictions on use of lighter than air craft might be possible.

A further world-wide conference for consideration of the rules of war also has been suggested and sentiment among the delegates seems to favor it.

Italy, however, hopes to see the present negotiations develop some agreement against bombarding of unfortified cities.

Some delegations expect a plenary session of the conference Wednesday or Thursday of next week to announce the completed limitation treaty and to record the further steps that have been taken in regard to the far east.

In the far eastern discussions today's deliberations contributed no surface indication of progress, despite an appeal by the Chinese to Secretary Hughes and Arthur J. Balfour to suggest a way out of the Chinese-Japanese deadlock on Shantung. The Chinese delegates saw the respective heads of the American and British delegations separately, an opinion was divided afterward as to the prospects.

Japs and Chinese Fail to Agree.
The two parties to the controversy could not even agree on a method of mediation. The Chinese wanted to accept the offer of "good offices" made by Messrs. Balfour and Hughes, but the Japanese declared that such a step would be valueless unless China was prepared to make concessions she hitherto has refused to consider.

A solution hinges on the method of payment to be arranged for China's purchase of the Tsingtau-Peking railway and both sides say they have gone as far as they can toward a compromise. In American quarters however, the difference is considered so small as to make a final disagreement unthinkable.

It is considered certain that Mr. Balfour and Secretary Hughes in their roles as mediators will use every reasonable means to bring the two groups together for there has been a tendency in many quarters to regard settlement of the long debated Shantung problem as an integral element in the solution of the remaining questions of the far east.

These questions are to come in for intensive discussion during the coming week.

WOULD-BE SUICIDE NOW WANTS TO LIVE

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Mrs. Frank Junig, 19, an artist who attempted to end her life here yesterday by swallowing poison now wants to live altho "she is thru with men forever," she said today.

When found the girl first gave her maiden name as Carola Beuchler.

Before taking poison the girl left two notes one to Joseph Carlson of Rockford, Ill., and the other to Mrs. Claude Blithe of Beloit, Wisconsin.

Tarquinia Mazzari, for years connected with the Grand Opera company as assistant orchestra director was accused by the girl of forcing his attentions on her and was questioned by the police but released. He declared he had only known the girl since Friday.

ANNOUNCE PARTIAL LIST OF DELEGATES TO AGRICULTURAL MEET

Secretary Wallace Gives Out Names of Those Whose Acceptances Have Been Received

—Many Prominent Men Are Included in List—Head Farm Bureau Among Number

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Delegates to the National Agricultural conference, which is to meet in Washington January 23, were announced in part tonight by Secretary Wallace. Julius H. Barnes of New York, formerly chairman of the United States grain corporation; Governor Warren McCray of Indiana; James Wilson of Chicago, president of the Institute of American Meat Packers, and J. R. Howard of Chicago, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, were among the list of forty seven names made public.

The conference, the secretary said, will be composed of a majority of farmers and farm organization leaders, but also of representatives of the chief industries and lines of business dependent upon agriculture and of banking, transportation and related lines.

Cotton, grain, tobacco, livestock, fruit, potato and general farmers as well as dairymen will be represented in the conference personnel as shown in the partial list.

State agricultural officials, representatives of agricultural colleges, economist, editors of farm papers will also be included, the agricultural secretary said. Investigations have been extended to public officials and former officials to attend as well as members of the joint congressional committee on agricultural inquiry.

The list of delegates made public tonight contains the names of those from whom acceptances have been received and follows:

S. J. Lowell, Fredonia, N. Y., master national grange; J. B. Howard, Chicago, president American Farm Bureau Federation; Charles H. Barrett, Union City, Ga., president of the National Farmers Union; J. S. Wannamaker, St. Matthews, S. C., president of the American Cotton Association; W. K. James, St. Joseph, Mo., president International Farm Congress; Milo D. Campbell, Coldwater, Mich., president National Milk Producers' Federation; Grant H. Slocum, Mount Clemens, Mich., president Gleaners Federation; G. H. Gustafson, Chicago, president United States Grain Growers, Inc.; J. M. Anderson, St. Paul, Minn., president Equity Exchange; G. Harold Powell, Los Angeles, general manager California Fruit Exchange; Carl Williams, Oklahoma City, president American Cotton Growers Exchange, editor Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman; Raymond A. Pearson, Ames, Iowa, president Iowa Agricultural College former assistant secretary of agriculture; G. I. Christie, LaFayette, Ind., director of the Indiana Experiment Station and former assistant secretary of agriculture; Alva Agnew, New Jersey, Albert Manning, Ottumwa, N. Y., general farmer; O. E. Bradford, Xenia, Ohio, cattleman, president Ohio State Farm Bureau; H. W. Tinkham, Warren, K. L., dairyman; E. B. Corwell, Middlebury, Vt., president of the Vermont Farm Bureau; G. H. Bowles, Lynchburg, Va., Farmers' Union; Charles L. Hill, Rosendale, Wisconsin, prominent breeder of dairy cattle; C. (Continued on Page Four.)

"As far as the federal authorities are concerned," said Commissioner Haynes, "we shall stop following the man up the alley who has a pint bottle on his hip. We are going to go after the source of the stuff, the man who loads up a thousand gallons on a truck and drives off."

"The small offenders will be left to the city and state authorities to whom the law especially gives opportunity for this action."

"The government will direct more attention to interstate and foreign shipments, leaving the smaller dealers to the local police. In other words we're going to get off the grasshoppers and onto the lions."

Mr. Haynes asserted that enforcement of the eighteenth amendment is going forward at an astonishing rate and appealed to all law abiding citizens to assist in stamping out liquor.

Mr. Haynes guarded by secret agents and postoffice department agents because of threats made against him conferred with the heads of prohibition organizations tonight in addition to the law enforcement agents.

He will deliver two addresses here tomorrow.

Major Haynes in talking about dry enforcement campaigns says that his forces are after the big offender and not the "hip booze consumer." That at least is a sensible statement, for little progress can ever be made with prohibition enforcement unless that effort is directed to the source of supply and manufacture rather than against the consumer. There is justice in the plan to let the producer be the law violator with mercenary purposes.

When the constitutional convention meets again January 31 the big question to occupy attention will be Chicago representation in the legislature. This is a vast important question because upon its fair settlement depends largely the success of the convention work. If too much partisanship is shown then Chicago will be arrayed against the state, with little possibility of agreement on any of the important provisions that the proposed constitution will contain.

The plan much talked of is to limit senate representation but to make house representation on a population basis. This is the plan followed in the national congress and while it has its defects, in general works out in a satisfactory way.

A well known business statistician ventures to say that business men have done more real thinking in recent months than they did in several years previous. He meant that in many lines money making was an easy matter during the years he mentioned, while in recent months countless difficulties have been presented even to keep business going without heavy losses.

So it is the prophecy that in coming months business will be better for those who plan carefully and with judgment and then add the necessary amount of industry. So on the same theory that competition is the life of trade, so general business conditions may be expected to improve and be for the benefit of the buying and consuming public.

The park board has some ambitious plans for the development of Mauvaisterre lake park but they are not more ambitious than the surroundings justify. The improvement plans may be done on the unit basis with certain betterments paid for thru the contributions of organizations.

Isn't it likely that individuals or organizations will want building sites in the new park and will be willing to pay for the privileges extended? There is no reason why Mauvaisterre park cannot become a veritable summer resort. The only disadvantage it has is the nearness to home. The distant beauties of nature always look the more beautiful and the faraway pastures the greener.

THE LENIN PLAN.

The leaders of the Lenin administration in Russia are trying to keep favor with the extreme communists by explaining that in returning to the so called capitalistic theory of economics they are merely preparing for a broader communism. The rest of the world will be interested in knowing just what they mean by that. What they have been pleased to announce as "capitalism" is nothing more or less than the recognition of the right of an individual to the results of his ability, initiative, enterprise and thrift.

Any man who works and saves and uses his savings in such a way as to enable him to provide employment for other men and redouble production, thereby becomes a capitalist. It was against this capitalistic class that the Bolsheviks organized their regime in Russia, and they confiscated the savings of the industrial leaders. That gave them a full treasury for a while, but unfortunately for them, men of ability and enterprise refused to accumulate more property for the Bolsheviks to confiscate.

The Lenin gang of pirates now learns its mistake, and proposes to restore rights of property. Naturally, the Bolsheviks are not keen for destruction of capitalism when there is no longer any capital to destroy. They want men of enterprise to get to work and accumulate more capital so that they, the Bolsheviks, will have something upon which to operate. It takes money to run a Bolshevik government just as it takes money to run any other kind of government. And money for the operation of government must come from individuals who have produced more than they have consumed. Lenin formerly thought that a government could get money out of a printing press, but he learned his mistake. He proceeded with all the folly of the man who killed the goose that laid the golden eggs. By confiscating capital he cut off the source of new capital. By discouraging production, he destroyed the source of government revenue.

DEATHS

Johnson
The death of Bernice, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Johnson, occurred at the residence in Chapin Friday afternoon. Death was due to pneumonia. The funeral services are to be held this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the residence and interment will be in the Concord cemetery.

Schildman
Robert N. Schildman, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schildman, passed away at 11:45 o'clock Saturday morning at the home of the parents, 326 Ashland avenue. The child was about two months of age and is survived by the father and mother, with three brothers, Russell, Paul and Richard.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock, the funeral will be held at the Gilliam Funeral Home, with interment in Jacksonville cemetery. The services will be in charge of Rev. C. D. Robertson, pastor of Centenary M. E. Church.

MATRIMONIAL

Ferguson-Brawley
The marriage of J. Robert Ferguson and Miss Margaret O. Brawley, both of Jacksonville, was solemnized in this city at two o'clock Saturday afternoon, Rev. M. L. Pontius, performing the ceremony at his home on West College avenue. The young people were unattended.

The bridegroom is a farmer, living about three miles north of Jacksonville and at one time was a resident of this county. The bride and bridegroom both belong to well known Jersey county families and have hosts of friends in their home community to wish them well. They will reside on a farm near Jacksonville.

Larson-Thompson
O. B. Larson of Canby, Minn., and Miss Mildred Thompson were united in marriage at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning in this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Marbach, pastor of State Street Presbyterian church and the bride and bridegroom were unattended.

Mr. and Mrs. Larson will make their home in Canby, Minn., where the groom is engaged in business.

RETURN FROM CALIFORNIA
Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Rowe have returned from California where they went to be present at the marriage of Miss Sarah Harris to Mr. R. Y. Rowe at Pasadena, going west Mr. and Mrs. Rowe traveled over the Union Pacific and on their return journey came by the southern route.

Mr. Rowe said yesterday that it is very beautiful just now in southern California although there have been tremendous rains there. In the period in which the average rainfall is 3 inches the record has been 16 inches so it is easy to understand that flood conditions have prevailed.

Richard Leake was a Joy Prairie visitor to the city yesterday.

AND THE INCOME TAX.
G. W. Schwabert, collector of revenue has issued the following statement relative to "information at the source" in relation to tax collection.

"The attention of this office has been directed to a custom pursued by certain individuals, partnerships, and corporations in executing their returns of information at the source for Form 1099, namely, the amount of salaries, wages, interest, commissions, rents, or other determinable gains paid to individuals during the preceding calendar year is required by Section 256 of the Revenue Act of 1921.

"The amount to be reported on Form 1099 is the total gross payment of salaries, wages, interest, commissions, or rents to individuals during the preceding calendar year. Many individuals, partnerships, and corporations have erroneously reported only the net amount so paid. In executing Form 1099 under no circumstances should any deduction be made from the gross income paid to the individual."

MRS. THEODORE WHITE DIES AT BLUFFS

Death Came Saturday Morning After Long Illness — Funeral to Be Held at Beardstown Monday.

Bluffs, Jan. 7.—Mrs. Theodore White of Beardstown died at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Hartnady, in Bluffs, where she had been ill for the past nine weeks. The deceased was 69 years, 9 months and 29 days of age at the time of her death. She was born in Rushville and in early womanhood was united in marriage to John Alford of Beardstown.

Ten children were born to this union, five of whom have preceded their mother in death. The following survive: Oscar and Lawrence Alford of Beardstown; Mrs. Dora Hartnady and Mrs. Mabel Taylor, Bluffs; Mrs. Elmer Thomas, Kearney, Neb.

Ten years ago the deceased was united in marriage to Theodore White of Beardstown, who survives.

On June 1 of last year a daughter of the deceased, Mrs. Glenna Stull of Galesburg, was brutally murdered by her husband at the home of relatives near Bluffs.

Mrs. White and her husband were also attacked by the murderer and the family was ill for many weeks afterward suffering from shock. Since that time her health has steadily failed and her mind became affected. Her death has been expected for some time, as it was realized that her condition was serious.

Funeral services will be conducted at the M. E. church in Beardstown Monday afternoon and interment will be made in the cemetery there.

The Screen's Transcending Emotion Play—The Distinctive Dramatic Presentation OF

"THE OATH"

From Wm. J. Locke's Novel, "IDOLS"
A First National Attraction with Three Big Stars

Conway Tearle, Miriam Cooper and Anna Q. Nilsson

Vow never to reveal secret marriage evolves stupendous story of double loves and havocted lives in "The Oath." A magnificent drama. As was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be—humanity transgresses and pays! But what are the paths of men and women who secretly bridge the gulf between two faiths? Here are two who forswore their marriage—taking an oath never to reveal it—and stumbling into the abyss when their oath wrecked the bridge which Love had built. In "The Oath" we see drama outstripping in power and humanness the finest stage or screen has ever given us. Scene after scene reveals the master-hand behind "The Oath." Even the captious will concede this great.

People You'll Never Forget

They are really only shadows on a screen of silver. They do not, nor did they ever, exist. And yet you will know them, speak of them by their first names; dream of them, perhaps, and of the great human drama their lives constituted.

They are people you will never forget: the principal characters in the Rex Ingram production of the masterpiece of Vicente Blasco Ibanez's novels—

BACK FROM TRIP TO THE SOUTH

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Osborne Return from Visit With Daughter in Mississippi—Morgan County Best Spot of All.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Osborne have returned from a ten days' visit with their daughter, Miss Edna Osborne, who is a teacher in Bennett academy at Matheson, Miss. Mr. Osborne said yesterday that a citizen of Morgan county who goes down into that country this year must have a finer appreciation of his home country. "We do not have any real idea of poverty up here by comparison with what I have recently seen in Mississippi. In the area that I visited the land is almost wholly depleted in fertility. The method has been used to raise cotton just as long as the land will produce this crop and then to abandon. The result has been that the fertility is absolutely exhausted in thousands of acres and the land literally today has no production value."

"It is very likely that the application of fertilizers would be an expense not at all justified by the land value or the crop returns that would come even if fertilizer was used."

"I enjoyed making this expedition to the south but I certainly think more than ever of old Morgan county, and if I had the power wouldn't want to exchange this county for the whole of the southern state."

Jacksonville Chamber No. 3 R. A. M. will hold a school of instruction Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, Jan. 9, 10, 11. Visiting Companions welcome.

John W. Hughett, E. H. P. John R. Phillips, Secy.

"Straight From Paris"

Clara Kimball Young's Latest and Greatest Dramatic Hit

There isn't a woman, young or old, from the girl in her teens to grandma that won't be intensely interested in Clara Kimball Young's brand new picture "Straight from Paris." If you recall how beautiful Clara Kimball Young was in "Hush," her last picture, you can just imagine how lavish and how wondrous she must be in "Straight from Paris," her latest picture in which she appears in gowns and wraps and other marvelous apparel that will inspire and delight every woman's heart—and every man's, too. "Straight from Paris" is a human story of how a plain milliner with brains rose to dizzy heights in the social scale.

At no period in her entire motion picture career has Clara Kimball Young ever been so bewitchingly beautiful, so wondrously gowned, so splendid in her dramatic powers as in this. If you paid the regular stage play prices to see Clara Kimball Young in "Straight from Paris" you wouldn't be paying enough for here is a photodrama that in the might and beauty of the silent art surpasses many of the biggest stage plays of years.

A kaleidoscope of dazzling scenes, an ensemble of the finest talent, entrancingly staged with Clara Kimball Young at her best.

COMPOSE HAWAIIAN MUSIC AT HOME

HONOLULU, T. H.—By The Associated Press.—Hawaiian music to be effective, should be composed in Hawaii and not in the Greenwich Village section of New York nor in the center of Chicago. It was decided at the first meeting of the Hawaiian Legends and Music Commission, appointed Sunday by Governor Wallace R. Farington to perpetuate the island fables and native mele or melodies.
The smooth arrangement of notes so familiar in local compositions is possible only in Hawaii and can not be produced "amid the rumble of elevated railroads, subway trains, and other discordant noises of large cities on the mainland," one speaker declared.
The committee decided to take immediate action toward preserving selected native legends that already have been written, to be followed later by the publication of legends, as yet unwritten which have come down thru generations of the Hawaiians by word or mouth. It was pointed out that some of these latter might be lost unless early steps are taken to have them written and published.
To prohibit any one becoming a "slacker," the Secretary of War is in favor of the mobilization of men, money and manufacturing, under a conscription law in event of a future war. The Secretary favors drafting every man in the United States between 18 to 60 years of age. This, he adds, would keep down prices during war, reduce profiteering to a minimum and prevent wages from reaching untold heights.

GIVE FIGURES ON CONDITION OF THE FOREIGN WHEAT CROP

Argentina and Australia Show Slight Falling Off
(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Growing conditions for the winter wheat crop in Argentina have continued favorable and while no official estimate of production has been issued confidence prevails concerning the yield of the new crop, according to a summary of foreign crop prospects, made public tonight by the department of agriculture. The wheat area is estimated at 13,727,000 acres as compared with 14,959,000 in 1920 and 1921.
Harvesting is in progress both in the Argentine and in Australia where the preliminary official estimate of production is 146,614,000 bushels compared with 146,789,000 bushels a year ago.
Latest estimates of the wheat crop in the union of South Africa indicate a yield of 8,449,000 bushels compared with 8,113,000 bushels last year.
The wheat area in New Zealand shows an increase being 363,000 acres this year as against 223,000 acres in 1920-1921.
The fall crop of good grain in British India have yielded well, and the outlook for the spring crops is favorable the summary stated. The prospect for the cotton crop in British India were reported as good.

STATE CLOSES IN STRAUSE TRIAL

(By The Associated Press.)
BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Jan. 7.—The state closed its testimony in the case of Edgar A. Strause of Peoria, charged with the murder of Berne M. Mead at 2 o'clock this afternoon and Judge Barry immediately adjourned court until 9 o'clock Monday morning.
Counsel for the defense stated that their cause would be in about Friday noon and the case is expected to go to the jury about Saturday noon.
Witnesses today were George Schwaabaker, Henry Sandmeyer, Albert Salzenstein, George W. Barton, Thomas H. Blair, George H. Ellis, janitor of the bank building, William C. McClute and Harry Lamson.
Their testimony dealt largely with conditions in the bank and the scenes following the shooting.

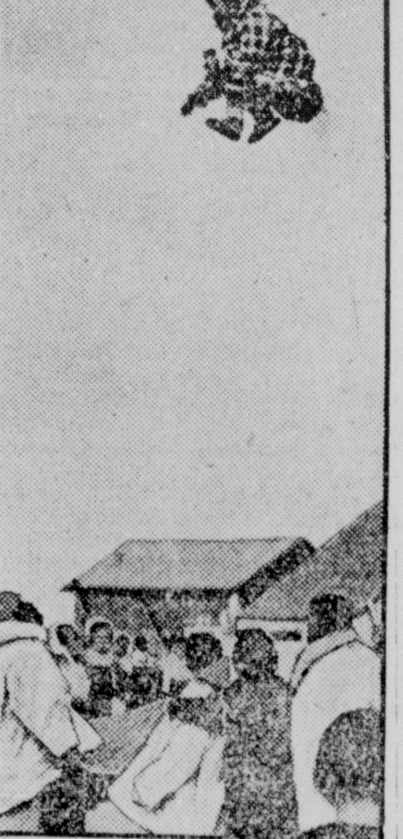

IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED FOR MAUVAISTERRE PARK

Mauvaisterre park has been divided into fifteen units by the park board and after necessary facts have been secured it is the hope of the board that various organizations or individuals will make possible the funds for the improvement work.
T. J. Brennan, secretary of the park board, has written O. C. Simonds of Chicago, a well known landscape gardener for some information, advice and estimates. When all the plans of the board are realized, Mauvaisterre park will be one of the most beautiful spots in central Illinois. The natural advantages are there and the improvements suggested will make the park a really wonderful place.

TELL METHODS OF MEETING UNEMPLOYMENT

All the cities in the United States of more than 20,000 population, have now been reached by the President's conference on unemployment, and some very interesting reports have been received as to the novel means taken by various communities to provide work for the jobless. These are collected in the clearing house of information maintained by Colonel Arthur Woods, chairman of the committee and civic and emergency measures, and are sent out in bulletin form every ten days to all mayors, as suggestions towards the solution of their own problems.
Chicago has made a house to house canvass under the direction of the 23 battalion fire chiefs, to compel householders to remove from their premises all combustible material and refuse, as a fire prevention measure. This campaign has created many short time jobs. The Women's City Club has divided the city into 35 districts, each in charge of a woman chairman, who devotes specified hours each day to getting jobs thru its membership.
Dallas, Texas, took a church census of its 190,000 population and each householder was asked if some special odd job, painting, carpentry, gardening, or cleaning, could be furnished if the unemployed, and a record was kept of the replies and addresses, with the result that a large number of days of work were secured for the most needy.
In Fort Wayne, Ind., advertisements were published in the newspapers, and the unemployed were asked to fill out and send in blanks. These were turned over to the local employment agency, and the local industries secured the help they needed.
Kearny, N. J., has an agent out every afternoon, covering the town with several helpers, in automobiles. The visit buildings under construction, look over streets being paved, and call at all industrial plants and railroad shops, offering the co-operation of the local employment bureau, and ascertaining exactly what kind of help is needed.
In New York City, 103 social agencies have co-operated in relief work for the unemployed and have established a central bureau of registration to act as a clearing house. Pittsburgh contractors and employers have been urged to keep 1 or 2 men in each family on the pay-roll, and to hire to a large extent those living in the city who have dependents.
Each ward in Rockford, Ill., has a committee with the two aldermen as chairmen. These committees in turn have organized precinct committees with a member in charge of each city block. Personal contact like this has resulted in a very successful campaign to provide jobs and relieve distress.
Schnectady, N. Y., has taken care of its own problem by bond issues for public improvements, and the city officials are enforcing rigidly such ordinances as snow removal, which is done under city supervision and charged on tax bills of all derelict property owners.
Atlanta, Ga., has formed a club of 500 citizens, each of whom has pledged the building of a dwelling to be rented at a reasonable figure, thus giving their employment to many, and also helping the housing situation.
Boston, Mass., has asked all

LARGE PART OF INCOME WASTED

"Tanlac Did More Good Than Everything Else Put Together," Says St. Louis Man.
"During the past four years I have paid out a large part of what I made for treatment and medicines trying to get my health back and it's a fact Tanlac has done me more good in three weeks time than anything else I have taken put together" was the remarkable statement made recently by Philip Andrai 614, South Broad street, St. Louis, Mo.
"Before taking Tanlac I could not eat anything but what would ferment and cause me trouble, and I had no appetite at all. I would bloat terribly with sour gas and have such a tightness in my chest I could hardly breathe. I was habitually constipated, felt tired and worn out all the time, and at times was unable to do any work at all.
"In almost no time after I started on Tanlac my appetite took on a good edge and I was back on the eating list. I have taken two bottles now and can eat just anything without having a particle of trouble afterwards. I sleep like a log at night, work every day, and have not felt so well generally in a long time. Just give me Tanlac and you may see all the other medicines."
Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Shreve's Drug Store and Coover's Drug Store and by leading drug stores everywhere.—Adv.

LIVESTOCK MARKET CONDITIONS DISCUSSED

H. J. Rucker, Associate County Adviser, Gives Record of Work Done in Period from Dec. 3, 1921 to Jan. 6, 1922

Four important lines of livestock have been carried on during the past month, namely: dairying, poultry culture, swine husbandry and livestock marketing.

The dairy work has been that of co-operating with the dairymen in forming the Morgan County Dairymen's association. This organization is in a way to develop the interests in these lines, which is one of the most important moves that could be developed for the county. The department also co-operated with the health warden in drawing up application blanks for securing of licenses, worked out feed rations, co-operated with the dairy extension of the state department of agriculture in holding three meetings in the county showing their film on dairy improvement. Five meetings were held in promoting this work.

The work done along poultry lines continue to show that poultry production is considered as a minor part of the farm operations, in that during the past month the services rendered would have been of much more value to them had it been asked for during the month of September. Culling of poultry has been continued. Twelve flocks have been culled and at ten of these places, culling demonstrations were held, with an attendance of eighty-four. Numerous rations have been worked out and changes in housing of the flock has been recommended. Diseased flocks have been examined and remedies and preventatives have been recommended.

Co-Operate With Breeders
During the month the department has been able to co-operate with three of the four swine breeders' associations. We co-operated with the Spotted Poland association in forming a working policy and membership campaign. Then we assisted the Duroc and Poland China associations in developing a combination sale to be held Feb. 18. Examination has been made of diseased herds and remedies and preventatives have been recommended. Proper feeding has been emphasized and the use of minerals for growing pigs and brood sows has been encouraged. Five meetings were held in which some part was taken by the department.

The marketing of livestock is one of the important works of this department. A meeting was called of the manager and directors of the shipping associations and other representative men, as township chairmen, and the program which developed from this meeting called for a continuance of forming local shipping associations at other points in the county. Then when each shipping point is served by such an association to have a meeting for the purpose of developing a county organization. In compliance with this plan, three shipping associations have been organized, those of Murrayville, Woodson and Waverly. Four meetings were held in developing this work.

Besides being active in these four lines of work the associate adviser has been active in numerous other lines. Co-operation has been given in the Junior Corn Show and Poultry Show. A day and a half was given in visiting schools, in which time, thirty-one schools were visited and talks were made to children from 344 families.

A horse-breaking demonstration was held at the home of C. S. Black where Mr. Newell handled his colts, having an audience of over 100.

At the Landlord and Tenant meetings, emphasis was given on the part livestock played in profits on the farm and the value of soy beans as a feed for such stock.

Summary of Work
To summarize the month's work, the associate adviser, held or attended, taking some part in twenty-eight meetings, which had an attendance of 746, wrote 309 letters, had 103 office consultations, made twenty-three farm visits, wrote seven circular letters sending out 653 copies, wrote seven newspaper articles besides giving an announcement of and reports of twenty-eight meetings held during the month to the newspapers. Besides the above numerous requests have been made and service given by telephone.

GEORGE WILKERSON
DIES OF INJURIES

Man Who Fell from Wagon Load of Hay Dies Early This (Sunday) Morning.

George Wilkerson died at Passavant hospital at 2 o'clock this (Sunday) morning as the result of injuries received when he fell from a wagon load of hay Friday morning.

Mr. Wilkerson was employed on the York farm southeast of the city. Friday morning he brought a load of hay to the city for Mr. York. While attempting to unfasten a door in the hayloft preparatory to unloading the hay Mr. Wilkerson slipped and fell to the ground striking on his head.

The injured man was taken to Passavant hospital where he was attended by Dr. A. M. King. It was found he was suffering from concussion and Dr. King considered his condition serious from the first.

The remains were removed to the undertaking parlors of Arthur G. Cody and prepared for burial. Coroner Rose was notified and will hold an inquest. Neither the time of the funeral or the inquest are known at the hour of going to press.

MODERN NOAH IS PRESENT SCHOOL TEACHER
SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—(By the A. P.)—Pointing the people of Illinois to the public school teacher as the "modern Noah" Francis G. Blair, state superintendent of public instruction, has issued the first of his 1922 publications, declaring that "it would seem as if the home, the church, and the community have decided to transfer all the cargo of their duties and obligations in the education of the rising generation to the new ark."

"With a sublime confidence," he writes, "they seem to be willing to unload the responsibility of the physical, mental and moral development upon the modern Noah, the school teacher."

"No doubt we shall increase the strength and capacity of the vessel and the trustworthiness of the mariners, but there must come a limit in the amount of cargo we can take on without endangering the boat itself."

"The school has carried, and will continue to carry its own load but it is in the highest interest of all concerned that the home, the church, and society shall not default in carrying their part of the burden, the responsibility and the opportunity."

FARMERS' INSTITUTES TO END NEXT MONTH
SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—(By the A. P.)—Illinois' farmers' institutes, which began last July and continue until February, will end next month with the annual state meeting at Monmouth.

Altho most of the county institutes were held during October, November and December, farmers of seventeen counties are still looking forward to their county gatherings before the state meeting closes the season's program.

Household science meetings were held in conjunction with practically all of the farmers' institutes during the winter.

Counties which are still to hold institutes this winter follow:

Boone—Jan. 16-21.
Clark—Jan. 18-20.
DeKalb—Jan. 21-Feb. 3.
DeWitt—Jan. 24-25.
Edgar—Jan. 27.

STORM VERY COSTLY
FOR PHONE COMPANY

Engineer Estimates That Local Company Must Spend $80,000 for Rehabilitation Work.

The Illinois Telephone Company has by no means recovered from damage done by the storm which occurred two weeks ago. The statement from the company's offices this week indicates that nearly half the company's phones are still out of commission. To be exact, before the storm the total number of phones in operation was 9515 and there are still more than 4500 phones out of commission. This is because so many wires and poles are down.

An engineer has made a survey of the damage to the company's property in Morgan, Greene and Jersey counties and has found that the cost to re-establish service in a temporary way will be $39,000. While a complete repairing of the damage done will mean an expenditure of approximately $80,000.

The heaviest losses of the Illinois company are down in Greene county, the damage being at Roodhouse, White Hall and Carrollton. There is also some property loss at Jerseyville, where 600 poles were down and 1,000 telephones out.

The survey mentioned above showed in the total area affected by the storm 4820 poles down. This means a tremendous job to replace the poles and repair the wires, which of course were broken down with the poles. The figures quoted refer of course to the Illinois company's property and the lines acquired recently from the Bell Company.

It was stated that the Illinois Co. made application for an increase in rates that business was not on a paying basis and it is therefore easy to understand why the company officials at this time are greatly disturbed by the heavy storm losses. Some method of financing the work must be found if complete rehabilitation takes place within the next few months.

G. W. HAMILTON DIES
AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Death of Well Known Resident Occurred Saturday Night—Funeral Arrangements Not Completed.

The death of George W. Hamilton occurred at his residence on East North street at 7 o'clock Saturday night. Mr. Hamilton had been in failing health for nearly three years past and altho he had been able to attend to his business affairs the greater part of the time he and members of his family realized that his condition was becoming more serious.

The deceased was born July 27, 1868, in Brown county, but the greater part of his life was spent in this city. He was married to Miss Molly Brady of Versailles, Oct. 23, 1895 and their home was established here. Mrs. Hamilton survives her husband, together with three daughters and two sons: Gladys, Grace, Gertrude Carl and Leo Hamilton, all at home. He leaves also the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Elmer Gary, of Lawton, Okla.; Mrs. Claud Vail of Jacksonville; Claude and Harlie Hamilton, Greenfield, Paul Hamilton of Portland, Oregon.

Mr. Hamilton was a member of the Catholic church and the Modern Woodmen and Yeomans organizations. He had for years been proprietor of a barber shop and was known as a man of fine principles and earnest purposes. He was always interested in municipal affairs and ready to aid every good cause. Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

JACKSONVILLE HIGH WON FROM CAPITAL CITY IN BASKETBALL

Defeated the Visitors in One of the Best and Fastest Games Ever Seen on the Local Floor—Players of Both Teams Put Everything They Had in the Contest

In one of the fastest and most exciting games ever seen in a David Prince gymnasium, Jacksonville high defeated Springfield high Saturday night by a score of 16 to 14.

The crowd that saw the game filled the bleachers and overflowed on to the playing floor and it was a riot of noise and excitement as first one team and then the other pulled some brilliant play.

Springfield had a team that looked almost as good as that which won the tournament here last year. However, Jacksonville had a better team than they had a year ago and they outplayed Springfield in all departments of the game.

During the game Jacksonville had 83 shots at the basket and made six of them. However, many of these were impossible shots and then the Jacksonville men did not take the time they should have taken when right under the basket and that caused many misses. The locals had eight chances at free throws and Hunter tossed four of them.

Springfield had twenty five shots at the basket and made four of them. They also had nine chances at free throws and made six of them.

While it is true that many of Jacksonville's shots were long ones yet they outclassed Springfield in working the ball down to the basket and with anything like the usual accuracy the score would have been far larger in favor of Jacksonville.

Both teams started at top speed and never let up at any stage of the game. R. E. Harmon, who officiated, is one of the best officials ever seen on a local floor. He follows the ball closely and calls penalties without fear or favor. It is his work that makes the game a good one from the spectators' standpoint and also helps teams used to playing a fast game.

Springfield started off after the first tip and took the lead which they held at the end of the first quarter. Jacksonville, however, came from behind and at the end of the half led by a score of 7 to 5.

When the second half opened Jacksonville maintained her lead but Springfield soon took the lead. Then Jacksonville tied the score and took the lead and held it until the final whistle.

It would be difficult to pick star players on either team. All of the players put everything they had into the contest and it was a brilliant exhibition of present day basketball in all its departments.

Hunter, Goebel and Putnam played a wonderful offensive game and their exhibition of floor work was as good as we have seen for a long time. Hunt and Arter at guard stopped the Springfield

MAJOR LEAGUE MEN RAISE DRAFT PRICE

Place It at $7,500 Instead of $5,000—No Statement on Tearney's Proposal

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Major league baseball leaders, meeting here today with Judge K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, decided to amend the major-minor draft agreement so that $7,500, instead of $5,000, will be the price for drafting a player from the Class AA leagues. This agreement, according to Ban Johnson, American league head, and John Heydler, who represented the National league, will be the last concessions of the majors to induce the minors to accept the draft.

The major league chiefs consented to the increase in price only after an all-day meeting, the most of which was taken up by John Conway Toole, president of the International league and President Tom Hickey of the American association, in explaining why their circuits have objected to the major leagues selecting one player annually from each club.

At the suggestion of Judge Landis the amendment to the draft is to be so worded that either major league can withdraw prior to Jan. 1, 1923. This was the only condition on which President Johnson and President Heydler would agree to the change. Both Hickey and Toole expressed a belief that the raise might satisfy their respective club owners but the matter will have to be put before these men and also before the major league owners before it can be effective.

At a recent meeting of the American association, the draft question was turned down principally because one of the owners thought $5,000 was not enough for a player. For this reason it was predicted tonight that the amendment will be satisfactory to the association.

The International may be willing to follow the lead of the American association, baseball observers said, but little is known regarding the attitude of the Pacific Coast league.

No statement was made at the close of today's conference regarding the proposal recently submitted to Judge Landis by Al Tearney, president of the Western and Three I leagues, the only one of the circuits not within the scope of the draft. Tearney presented proposals which he said would stop the "farming out" of drafted players by the majors.

Minor league leaders asserted that the higher price would make the majors less anxious to draft players indiscriminately. In returning a drafted man, only half the draft price will be paid back, as in the original agreement.

The new arrangement if accepted, it was stated, will include the feature agreed today by the advisory council in New York, to the effect that when players are turned back by the majors, they must be offered first to Class AA, then to Class A leagues and so on until they are accepted. This will insure the player of being in company fitting his ability.

Leslie O'Connor, secretary to Judge Landis, said tonight, that President Johnson and President Heydler were both opposed to the higher price but had agreed to give it a year's trial to determine how it will operate.

FRANKLIN WON GAME FROM MURRAYVILLE

Score of 16 to 11 Was Result of Game Played at Murrayville Saturday Night

MURRAYVILLE, Jan. 7.—The Franklin basketball team played the local team here tonight, the game resulting in victory for the visitors by a score of 16 to 11.

The score tied in the first half of the third quarter but when the game ended the score was as above noted. Franklin was outplayed but the Murrayville boys had hard luck when it came to goals. It was a fast game and was witnessed by a large crowd.

CHICAGO WON SLOW GAME FROM OHIO

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—The University of Chicago basketball team defeated the Ohio state teamers, 25 to 14 here tonight in one of the slowest games seen on the Chicago floor in recent years.

Ohio State scored its first basket less than one minute after the game started but Chicago was quickly under way and the score at the end of the first half was 7 to 4 in favor of Chicago. Hallday, Chicago center made five of his team's points while Robinson, Ohio State center came next with four.

The lineup:

	Pos.	Ohio State.
Chicago, Pos.	Ohio State.
Romney, f.	Dudley
Dickson, f.	Beard
Holliday, f.	Robinson
Hurlbut, f.	Young

Dubuque University 44; Plateville Normal 15.
Macomb High, 34; Camp Point High, 23.

Routt high school and Versailles, bucking each other on the Versailles floor last night, shot more baskets than it takes some times to win a tournament. Routt tossers scored a total of 59 points; Versailles took the low figure of 47.

Versailles has been playing some classy basketball this season, and the Routt boys had to work for their victory. The score ran fairly even a number of times. A basket was made every minute of play and it was an interesting game to see.

Mandeville of Routt scored 14 points; Gehert 12; Norris, 4; Cooney, 18 and Zell, 11.

Sides of Versailles hung up 17 points for his school; Baird 11; Von Devant 10; Bond, 6; Bates, 3.

Campbell of Mt. Sterling was referee of the contest. Murgatroyd of this city officiated as scorer and Bond of Bluffs was timekeeper.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE WINS AT SHURTLEFF

Coach Harmon's Five Defeats Opponents By Score of 31 to 12—Illinois Used Several Substitutes in Latter Part of the Game.

Coach Harmon's Illinois College five journeyed to Alton Saturday night and defeated Shurtleff left college at basketball by a score of 31 to 12.

Illinois was without the services of Jones who is down in his work at present. However, the old machine worked in excellent shape and flattened the opposition in easy style.

At the end of the first half the score was 20 to 5 in favor of Illinois. Coach Harmon injected several new men into the game after the score was safely in favor of Illinois and they also showed well.

For Illinois Antrobias was the chief pointmaker getting a total of fifteen while Frazer, Mellon and Cully also contributed to the Illinois score.

Every man on the Shurtleff five broke into the scoring. However, they did not do it with enough frequency to help much.

WILL LAY HARNESS HORSE RACING SEASON

Stewards and Representatives of Grand and Lake Erie Circuits Will Meet in Cleveland This Week.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 7.—The harness horse racing season for 1922 will be laid here next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, when stewards and representatives of the Grand and Lake Erie Circuits hold their annual meetings and assign dates, upon which other harness racing dates throughout the country are based.

The Grand Circuit meeting will open Monday and continue Tuesday. The schedules and rules committee will meet Monday afternoon with the annual dinner to be held in the evening. Tuesday's program, as mapped out by Secretary Win H. Kinman, calls for an open meeting in the morning, to which all horsemen are invited and an executive meeting of the stewards in the afternoon at which action will be taken on rules and schedules.

The Lake Erie officials, "controlling the half mile tracks, will meet on Wednesday.

One of the principal questions facing the Grand Circuit stewards is whether dates will be assigned to the Kenilworth track at Windsor, Ont., across the river from Detroit. President Samuel McBride of that track, has signified his intention of applying for membership with a view to holding a meeting during the two weeks preceding the North Randall meeting.

Under the Canadian law it is possible only to race three days a week, and in order for a six-day meet to be held at the Kenilworth track it is necessary to race in two different weeks.

However, the management of the North Randall track here is reticent about relinquishing the opening of the Grand Circuit. They point to the fact that they took the opening dates several years ago when no other track wanted them and since then has built up its open meeting second to none in the circuit.

If Lexington decides to substitute a six day meeting for the two weeks gathering it has held for many years, as has been reported, this must also come before the stewards. Such action by Lexington would leave a week open between the Lexington and Atlanta meetings.

The addition of Kenilworth would give the Grand Circuit twelve tracks. Present members are North Randall, Toledo, Columbus, Kalamazoo, Lexington, Atlanta, Philadelphia, Poughkeepsie, Syracuse, Hartford and Readville.

Kenilworth had been a member until a few years ago. If dates are received the $10,000 Merchants and Manufacturers stake, one of the outstanding features of the circuit until racing was abandoned at Kenilworth, will be reviewed, it was announced by President McBride.

YOUNGSTOWN MAYOR TACKLING BIG JOB

Makes Plans to Clean up City—Spoons Can Carry on Occupation in Public Parks Under Police Supervision.

YOUNGSTOWN, O. — (By the A. P.)—George L. Oles, Youngstown's spectacular mayor-elect arrived home recently from a vacation in Florida ready, he said, to "clean up the city" and "fire anyone who doesn't obey orders when he takes office next Sunday."

Oles made political history here by running as an independent candidate defeating the Republican incumbent by over 500 votes and the Democratic candidate by over 6000.

The city auditor received a request from Oles in Florida asking for a "thorough invoice" of the city "just as if I were going to buy it."

"I want to know how much money the city of Youngstown owes," he wrote, "whom they owe it to and when it is due. I want to know who owes the city of Youngstown. I want to know where the money is coming from to pay the bills. I want to know what stocks we have on hand such as horse feed and supplies gasoline in the tanks stationary and ink and lead pencils, also the amount of coal—and do not forget to state the amount of cash in the bank."

Shortly after the balloting Mayor Fred J. Warnock, defeated for re-election, issued a 2,000 word statement citing court decisions in an effort to show that Oles' promise to give his salary to charity constituted a bribe to the poor, and therefore disqualified him. Petitions to the courts were prepared, but were dropped and no contest now is in sight.

Oles went into the produce business in New Castle, Pa., 20 years ago with a wheelbarrow and a barrel of potatoes as his sole stock in trade. After he had built up a flourishing business there in five years time he sold it to start a market in Youngstown to be run on what he called a psychological principle. Oles began presenting eccentric newspaper advertising based, he says, on Billy Sunday's evangelistic tactics, which he had seen in New Castle. Slam-bang statements about women's styles, his competitors, local politics and current topics soon won him a reputation.

During the mayoralty campaign Oles announced in his "ad" one day that he was going to run for mayor.

"I just started it for a joke," he said later. "But people took it seriously and pretty soon I took it seriously too."

At length Oles moved into a Youngstown hotel from his country home to establish a legal residence and began to give Youngstown its most spectacular political campaign. There was no organization by phreetics and wards, but he and his wife held meetings all over the city—meetings for women only at which Mrs. Oles told what a fine husband and father Mr. Oles is, and meetings for men at which Mr. Oles rushed on the platform with arms in air shouting: "Here I am! Vote for Oles!"

Wins Many Wagers.

Few persons professed to believe that Oles had a chance until the returns began to come in election night. Next day a check on admissions by various men who had challenged Oles to wagers brought out the fact that by taking all bets he could make enough to pay his campaign expenses and give himself and his family a trip to Florida.

At various times during the campaign Oles announced the following platform planks:

Discontinuance of street car service and turning over the streets to jitneys.

Firing the whole police force if it didn't clean up the town.

Permit spooning in parks under police protection.

Jail anyone who paid taxes under a recent revaluation.

Tear up the Erie Railroad's tracks if it didn't eliminate downtown grade crossings.

After his election, however, there were indications that Oles was considering conservative policies. Questioned about "firing" various officials whom he had named in the campaign he said he would have to inquire into the law.

Concerning the street car plank he said that the traffic problem was knotty, and required a great deal of study.

Asked as to jailing taxpayers, he said after election that he would jail anyone who broke the law.

That cough you have is unnecessary. Stop it with MERRIGAN'S cough drops.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS NOTES

Jealous of the "honors" bestowed on Grover C. Bergdoll, a man describing himself as P. E. Saylor, Genesee, Idaho, is seeking official recognition of his self-imposed title of "super-slacker of the United States." He has written Gov. Hart, Washington, asking that his name be placed at the top of the slacker list.

By moving from city to city and changing his name, the man declares he laughed at the draft. By purchasing a soldier's discharge and war medals, he adds, he has enjoyed all the glory of an A. E. F. hero. "You ought to hear me tell the girls about the battle I was in," he writes. Federal agents and American Legion men of the West are searching for him to bestow additional honors. —(Seattle, Wash., date.)

Pekingese dogs wearing expensive coats, while ex-soldiers sit shivering on park benches aroused the ire of the Rev. S. Parkes Cadman, Congregationalist minister of Brooklyn during the American Legion's attempt to get overcoats for needy ex-service men. Rev. Cadman advocated taking the coats off "these over-dressed promenadees with poodle dogs on a string and wrapping them around the half frozen backs of our boys." —(New York date.)

To live up the town's long winter evenings the American Legion post of Strathearn, Minn., challenged the citizens to a whist tournament. The final game of the series lasted until 3:30 a. m., the ex-soldiers winning.

Suspension of immigration for three years has been advocated in a hearing before the House committee on immigration by John Thomas Taylor, vice chairman of the American Legion's legislative committee. A bill to so suspend immigration is pending. —(Washington date.)

A gold star mother 100 years old is being taken care of by the American Legion of White Plains, N. Y. Her son, her only support, was killed in France. The government check, paid for her son's death, merely covers her rent. She is a Southern Negro.

If a pending ordinance allows the employment of 200 additional policemen in Los Angeles, Chief of Police Jones will fill the vacancies with ex-service men, he has informed the American Legion seeking the organization's cooperation in obtaining candidates. —(Los Angeles, Cal., date.)

Cabot Ward, vice commander of the Paris, France, post of the American Legion has been elected first vice president of the International Veterans Federation in its second annual congress in Paris. A British veteran is second vice-president and a French veteran heads the organization. —(New York date.)

Every rural school center and village in Oklahoma will have a detachment of American Legion members. Small communities which cannot maintain chartered posts will be organized into outposts. —(Oklahoma City, Okla., date.)

The placing of a "trained, sympathetic war mother," at Ellis Island to aid women immigrants to get suitably located in the United States is being considered by the American Legion Auxiliary. —(Indianapolis, Ind., date.)

As a part of its Christmas program, the American Legion of Omaha, Neb., sent Mrs. Marie Anderson, 60 years old, to Leavenworth, Kan., to visit her son. The boy is serving a sentence for an offense committed after he ran away from home at sixteen years to join the army. He served during the World War.

An order issued by the Secretary of the Navy and construed as effecting adversely the retention of disabled men working in government shipyards was protested in a resolution passed by District Lodge No. 44, International Association of Machinists, in convention at Washington, D. C. The American Legion's national headquarters has thanked the labor organization for its cooperation "in obtaining a square deal for sick and disabled former service men." —(Indianapolis, Ind., date.)

Amounts received as compensation, family allotments and allowances under the war risk insurance and vocational rehabilitation acts, or as pensions from the Government for military or naval service in time of war may be exempted from federal income tax following an appeal made by the American Legion's legislative committee. The tax exemption also extends to "contribution of gifts for the use of posts of the Legion or the women's Auxiliary units thereof." —(Washington date.)

Many sick and wounded ex-soldiers who traveled far to obtain treatment in the army and navy hospital at Hot Springs, Ark., are in destitute circumstances after they have been refused admission to the hospital, according to national headquarters of the American Legion. Only the Surgeon General of the army or the U. S. Veterans Bureau can admit men to treatment there. —(Indianapolis, Ind., date.)

HONORS COME FAST TO JACKSONVILLE ARTIST

Painting of Miss Knopf of I. W. C. Will be Shown in Albright Art Gallery and at Rochester

During the holidays Miss Knopf of I. W. C. received the following letter which will be of interest to the Jacksonville public.

The Buffalo Fine Arts Academy, Albright Art Gallery, Buffalo, New York, December 19, 1921.

Dear Miss Knopf:

I have just seen your beautiful painting entitled "The Mountains, Colorado" now on exhibition at the Corcoran Gallery of Art, Washington, and I am writing you at once on behalf of the Buffalo Fine Arts Academy to ask if you will do me the great favor of allowing me to exhibit it in the Sixteenth Annual exhibition of one hundred selected paintings by American Artists at the Albright Art Gallery from April 8th to June 12th, 1922.

Trusting to hear favorably from you by return mail, I am Always most sincerely yours,

Cornelia B. Sage-Quinton,
Director of Buffalo Fine Arts Academy.

Rochester, New York Art Museum has also asked for the privilege of showing the same picture during June and July. Miss Knopf is also represented in the exhibition of the New York Water Color Club now showing in New York City.

COMING TO THE GRAND THIS WEEK

To the Grand comes Monday what is considered one of the season's best offerings, Jen Gladstone's "Merry Madcaps Musical Revue." From the advance reports received on this attraction, there is none like it on the road.

It carries more high-salaried stars than the average road show and three very clever comedians that can make you laugh without resorting to suggestiveness in any form.

The star performer of the company is none other than the famous Jen Gladstone, who created a profound sensation with her violin dance thruout the east.

Her opening performance will be a revelation to lovers of something different. Rapid fire humor and dancing have a conspicuous place in her offerings.

From the time the curtains rise until it drops there are continuous surprises. First Miss Gladstone will astonish you with her dancing ability, before the show is under way three minutes, and then the jazz band will produce the kind of music that tickles the feet, and when Billy Kent gets thru with you, you will think that you have been out in the country on the farm for a vacation.

Following is a 100 per cent musical offering by the famous Stewart brothers, who have no equals in the line of entertainment.

Harry Hern, the producer of this show, has been doing Irish characters for twenty-five years and the more you hear him the more you will be glad that you came to the Grand.

The chorus adds the charm of youth with their dancing talent. To lovers of the better kind of shows this attraction will appeal in every way.

Bring mother, sister and the wife; you will be glad that you did, after seeing the first bill presented, "An Artist's Model," on Monday night.

ORGANIZE AND PLAN FOR EDUCATIONAL WORK

Committees From Two Methodist Conferences Will Direct Extensive Campaign—Local Men Interested—Dr. Harker to Attend Series of Educational Gatherings

Dr. J. R. Harker returned yesterday from Bloomington where he went to attend a conference relative to the ten year program of educational advance for Illinois and central Illinois Methodist conferences.

A general committee of seventy-five was named and from this an executive committee of twenty-one. Then a business committee of five was named, including Rev. W. A. Shaw, Peoria; Rev. F. A. McCarty, Bloomington; Rev. C. M. Duncan, Bloomington; Rev. John G. Jones, Rock Island and Dr. J. R. Harker, this city.

This committee will be in frequent consultation with Dr. Harker, who is the director of finance of the Methodist board of education, and will have a large part of the responsibility for the big program which has for part of its purposes the raising of a huge fund for educational work in the territory covered by the two conferences.

The membership of the general committee includes Rev. E. L. Pleicher, Rev. G. W. Randle, J. J. Reeve and A. C. Metcalf of this city.

Tonight Dr. Harker will go to Chicago to attend a council of church boards of education, of which he is a member. Seventeen denominations are represented in the council, each by the secretary and one other representative. Dr. A. W. Harris, who is the secretary of the Methodist board of education, and Dr. Harker, are the representatives of the M. E. church.

Wednesday and Thursday, the Methodist college presidents' association will be in session in Evanston. Dr. Harker will make an address on "Current Problems of the College."

Friday and Saturday the Association of American colleges will be in session at the Auditorium. Sunday night, Dr. Harker will leave for New York to attend the annual meeting of the board of education of the Methodist church which will be in session there from Jan. 16 to 20.

Will Entertain at Dinner Today

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rexroat will entertain at a dinner today at their home on West College avenue in honor of Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Robbins of Washington, D. C., who are visiting relatives. Mrs. Robbins is a sister of Mr. Rexroat. Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Rexroat of Pine street, a brother, and Mrs. Cora Rexroat, a sister, will also be guests.

Congregational Brotherhood Met

The regular monthly meeting of the Brotherhood of the Congregational church was held last evening at the church. It has been the custom to hold these meetings on Friday evening but this particular meeting was postponed to Saturday in order that the Brotherhood might avail themselves of an opportunity of hearing Rev. W. G. Gammon of Chicago, who was in the city and available to the Brotherhood.

Supper was served to the members by a committee composed of A. D. Fairbank, Abner Hall and J. P. Lippincott.

After the supper the meeting was called to order by the president, E. B. Spink. Rev. Stickney, F. E. Hehl and William Wood made talks but the principal speaker of the evening was Rev. W. G. Gammon of Chicago. Mr. Gammon's subject was "The Pilgrims' Heritage."

Miss Brown Was Honor Guest

Miss Margaret Brown of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., was the guest of honor at an informal afternoon company given by Miss Amy DeMotte, Saturday afternoon at 329 Lockwood Place. Miss Brown is here for a short visit with her mother Mrs. W. F. Brown. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. George S. Rogerson, Mrs. T. P. Carter and Miss Alice Carter. The refreshments served and the other details of the party gave proof of the generous hospitality of the hostess.

TAFT VISITS SCENES OF HIS BOYHOOD

Cincinnati, O. (By Associated Press.)—William H. Taft, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States walked the streets unrecognized while viewing the scenes of his boyhood on a recent visit to Cincinnati.

The Chief Justice started for a long walk from the home of his brother, Charles P. Taft, on Fourth and Pike streets. His route included Mt. Auburn, his old home place and the streets about Woodward High school, which he had attended.

Mr. Taft found standing many houses which he remembered well looking just as they did when he went to and from school, except that they were older in appearance.

A unique feature of his walk was that, while he visited sections, where he once had known hundreds of persons, he did not see a soul that he knew or that knew him.

"That shows how much things can change in twenty years," Mr. Taft said in discussing his "tour."

Russell McGinnis was a visitor from Arenzville yesterday.

MARRIED IN KEOKUK IN CHURCH CEREMONY

William A. Allcott Wedded to Miss Dorothy Stanbro Saturday Night—Wedding a Brilliant Event

Keokuk, Iowa, Jan. 7.—(Special.)—The marriage of William A. Allcott of Des Moines and Miss Dorothy Stanbro of this city was solemnized tonight at 8:30 o'clock at the Episcopal church. The service was said by Dr. Lamont. The church edifice was beautiful with green and white effects, ferns and smilax intertwined with nautical bangles in the elaborate plan of decoration.

The church auditorium was completely filled with guests and the wedding was the most important social event of the mid-winter season.

Mrs. Harlan Williamson of Jacksonville, sister of the groom, was the matron of honor and Mr. Williamson was the best man. The wedding party included Misses Mary Hollingsworth, Corrine Weber, Katherine Tucker and Katherine Pyle, bridesmaids, and Messrs. Henry Husekamp, Harold Schell, Donald McGraw, of Keokuk, and Charles Gardner of Des Moines, groomsmen. Helen Young Bloomfield was the flower girl.

Following the church ceremony a brilliant reception followed by dancing was given at the Keokuk club.

Mrs. Allcott is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver F. Stanbro, prominent residents of this city. She is a graduate of the Ward Belmont school of Nashville, Tenn., and is one of the most popular young women in Keokuk society.

Mr. Allcott has made an excellent business record in Des Moines and he and his bride are to live in that city. They will be at home at the Tudor apartments.

Among those in attendance at the wedding were Mrs. Lee P. Allcott of Jacksonville and Mr. and Mrs. Abner M. Upham of Des Moines.

WESTMINSTER MISSION BAND MET.

Members of the Mission Band of Westminster church enjoyed a candy pull at the home of Miss Joy Rabyjohns on Prospect street Saturday afternoon. The candy pull and social time was preceded by a brief program, including a paper on the Near East by Miss Rhoda Rammelkamp.

Miss Jessie Holmes has been in charge of the Mission Band for a number of years and the fourteen girls in the organization hold monthly meetings.

Wednesday, Jan. 11th, at 1 p. m., at my home in Chapin, will sell my house and two lots, household and kitchen furniture.

Well Known Democrat Announces That He Will Seek Nomination for Member of County Board

William Cleary who lives about six miles northeast of Jacksonville, has decided to become a candidate for the democratic nomination for county commissioner. Mr. Cleary has long been a resident of the county, prominent as a farmer and business man. For a period of years Mr. Cleary has taken an active interest in public affairs and he is quite well informed upon the needs and business of the county.

Mr. Cleary's many friends believe that if he is nominated and elected a member of the county board that he will use the same good judgment and discretion that has characterized his general life. He is a man of high standing in his home community and will be accounted as a formidable candidate.

COAL MINE FIRE HAS BEEN BURNING FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS

Started in February, 1859—In Vein of Hard Coal Fifty Feet Thick—It is Now Believed That it is Under Control—Concrete and Clay Barriers Were Used to Stop Flames

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 7.—The Summit Hill fire, the "king" of all mine fires, is still burning, but it is well under control, according to a recent announcement by the Lehigh Coal & Navigation Company on whose property flames have been eating up millions of tons of anthracite coal for the last sixty-two years. While this one has been brought under control, another mine fire, which has been burning nineteen years near Mount Carmel, Pa., in the heart of the lower anthracite fields, is still trying to spread. A third fire which has been raging for three years, in the Red Ash vein of the Red Ash Coal company on the Wilkes Barre mountain, has made it necessary to close the old Giant's Despair road known to many automobilists because of the hill climbing contests that have been held upon it.

The Summit Hill fire in the Panther Creek Valley between Lansford and Coaldale, was discovered in February, 1859, in an abandoned gangway. The hard coal dips from 20 degrees to about 70 degrees and is about 50 feet thick.

LIKES WOMEN OF CHINA AND JAPAN

SOUTH HADLEY, MASS., Jan. 7.—The educated women of Japan and China are described enthusiastically by President Mary E. Woolley at Mount Holyoke College, who is absent from the college on a six months' trip as a member of the China Education Commission.

From Tokio she wrote of a luncheon, at which the guests were progressive Japanese women. "All but one spoke English well and from their points of view regarding social, educational and international questions, were as like a similar group in America as peas from the same pod."

Of the girls in the Girls' Higher Normal College in Peking Miss Woolley wrote: Such bright responsive faces, with a quick appreciation of anything humorous. There are only 250 of them and 20 more in the National University, the only provision which the government makes for the higher education of girls in all China, with its 400,000,000. Of course the Christian colleges supplement this but the Chinese women college-trained are few and far between.

In speaking of a dinner given Hankow, President Woolley again described the educated Chinese women:

"Alert, witty earnest—one cannot despair of China's future with a group of this sort. I like the Chinese immensely. The cultivated class seem more like the same type of Americans than any other Eastern nation I have seen, especially the women. Their sense of humor, their quick perception, their directness, are very likable."

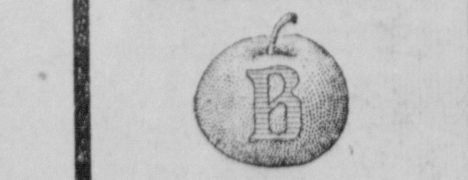

HARD ROADS OPEN TO EAST ST. LOUIS

CHICAGO—(By The A. P.)—All pavement is completed and open to traffic between Springfield and East St. Louis, according to the weekly report on road conditions of the Chicago Motor club. There are a few earth sections through cities on this route which are not paved, says the report, but most of them have been oiled or covered with cinders so that they are negotiable at all seasons of the year.

The Old National Trail is completed and open to traffic, excepting one mile west of Collinsville, where the detour is scheduled for speedy elimination. The Dixie Highway is completed but there is still a short detour of about a quarter mile four miles north of Marshall, adds the report.

Misses Maymie and Dovie Corington were shopping in the city from Orleans, yesterday.

REPORT SHOWS ACTIVE WORK IN PROGRESS

John T. Alexander Tells Cattle Feeders That Prospects Are for Better Markets—Veteran Commission Man Mentions Some of the Livestock Growers' Problems.

The annual winter meeting of the Indiana Cattle Feeders association was held at Purdue University at Lafayette, Ind., Saturday. For a number of years John T. Alexander of the firm of Alexander, Conover and Martin has taken part in the program at this convention. Mr. Alexander was present on Saturday and discussed livestock market conditions, particularly in relation to cattle. Mr. Alexander recognizes the present difficulties of the livestock men but takes a view of the future at once reasonable and optimistic. In summarizing his views Mr. Alexander said:

"Discussing what has happened to the cattle industry recently will get us no where. I think every farmer and feeder understands it. As to what is happening at the moment, opinion may differ, but we find the cattle market constantly congested, reflecting lack of consumptive demand for beef, which in turn reflects an industrial situation that might be worse, but has probably reached the maximum stage of depression, and may be expected to improve as the gigantic building task the country faces progresses. Already many favorable symptoms are detected. Labor, which has stubbornly resisted what the farmer has had no alternative but accept deflation, will soon see the light and once the industrial situation improves, beef consumption will expand. When that development sets in we will have a better cattle market."

"Industrial depression always helps pork and mutton at the expense of beef, as small meats are packable consumers to buy cheaper packages. The history of the industry, however, shows that eventually beef always returns to popularity."

"What will happen in the cattle market during the next sixty or ninety days is anybody's guess. It now looks as though the cattle now on corn are for sale at the earliest opportunity, which is likely to keep the market well supplied during that period, consequently values will depend on how beef moves into distributive channels."

"Toward the use of grass, an interesting stock cattle situation is likely to develop, especially if the War Finance Corporation continues its present policy of furnishing money to replenish depleted pastures west of the Missouri river. Temporarily, and largely due to feed abundance, there may be plenty of fat cattle, but trade students are wondering when the young stock necessary to replenish feed lots and pastures is coming. This is heralded by the present out of line condition of the stocker and fat cattle market."

"As there has been no incentive to lay in heavy cattle or run into long feeds we may expect good heavy cattle to sell well next summer and fall. The cattle market rarely repeats its previous season performance and is not likely to do so now."

"As beef gathering west of the Missouri river, the so-called range country, will be the smallest in a quarter of a century, the summer market will be relieved of serious competition from that quarter."

IMPROVEMENT IN FINANCIAL OUTLOOK

LIVERPOOL.—(By The Associated Press.)—Stanley Baldwin, President of the Board of Trade, has just told the shipbrokers here that there were more indications of improvement than the reverse in the industrial and financial outlook.

He was advised that in the United States they considered the corner was being turned; in India the bottom had been reached there were signs of revival in Japan where the slump was first experienced, while in the British dominions and South America the feeling was more hopeful.

One thing upon which they put a definite finger was the fall in food prices. The harvests of the world had been good and as a rule plenty of food meant plenty of orders.

In regard to wages, the concessions generally speaking had been satisfactory. There was a better spirit and temper in the country and a greater willingness for co-operation and mutual help. It they could get thru the next year without industrial stoppage they might look forward with some confidence, Mr. Baldwin said.

CHICAGO POULTRY SHOW NEXT WEEK

NAUVOO IS TOWN WITHOUT RAILROAD

Is Proud of the Fact Too—Says It Was There Before Railroads Came—Will Be There After Airplane Chases Them Away.

NAUVOO, Ill.—(By The Associated Press.)—Once the largest city in Illinois, Nauvoo today is a town without a railroad, and its citizens are proud of it.

Nauvoo was here before the railroads, they say, and will still be here when aircraft have classed the railroads with the dodo. Incidentally, situated at the half way spot between Chicago and St. Louis, Nauvoo is an ideal site for a control station for land and water planes, they assert.

The once holy city of the Mormons today numbers a scant thousand. In its heyday of population its charter gave it almost state like privileges. Now its inhabitants trouble not of such things political, but glory in the fragrance of September's ripened grape harvest or October's gold and scarlet river bluffs.

Old as Nauvoo is, as the middle west counts age, it is the descendant of a still earlier Illinois village, and running back centuries before the white man's coming, of a sacred spot of the Indians.

Attracted, probably by the commanding heights which guard this majestic curve of the Mississippi, the Indians buried their chiefs on the loftiest of these eminences. Even today treasures of flint weapons are unearthed from unlooted graves.

Old settlers, vanguards of the white race, were next. The little village of Commerce was established.

Then in 1839 the Mormons came. Driven from Missouri, they arrived in Illinois backed by the recommendation they they had been persecuted in slave territory. Joseph Smith, their prophet and his followers obtained a charter which granted them the right to found the city of Nauvoo where Commerce stood, to maintain a body of militia for the preservation of order, and to make any laws not in conflict with those of the state or nation.

They made it a prohibition town. Later it reverted to the wet and stayed that way until national prohibition came. Thus Nauvoo was the first and one of the last towns in the state to go dry.

Nauvoo attended a growth in those days of the Mormons estimated at 15,000 to 20,000. Some state politicians sought favor with the church while others opposed its growing power as a menace to the safety of the state.

Settlers in Hancock county, outside of Nauvoo, began to complain of their Mormon neighbors and in 1843 they met at Carthage, the county seat, to pass resolutions condemning the "violence, defiance of the law and thievery" of the Nauvoo regime. Disturbances grew and mob formed. A year later the prophet and his brother Hyrum Smith were jailed at Carthage and some days later were shot by a mob.

Brigham Young now assumed the leadership of the Mormons. He announced that, in accordance with a revelation which he said had been made to the prophet before his death, polygamy would be added to the tenets of the Mormon faith. The Mormons were all driven from Nauvoo, the major portion of them going to Utah.

Now came a body of French—monks who planted vineyards and gardens on the hills about the city. They tried to live as one large family with common labor and reward, but it did not work.

WOULD PRINT LAWS IN BOTH LANGUAGES

MANILA, P. I.—(By The A. P.)—At the request of the American chamber of commerce, Governor General Wood has recommended to the legislature that all important bills introduced be printed in both Spanish and English, instead of Spanish only as at present.

In his recommendation to the legislature, Governor General Wood said:

"There are about 2,000,000 of the inhabitants of the Philippines who understand the English language and it is believed that it would be advisable for important measures proposed in the legislature to be given out in English as well as Spanish so that the English-speaking public may have knowledge of them, thereby bringing about a fuller public discussion and understanding of proposed measures."

settled here. They planted orchards and gardens and vineyards. They built deep, arched cellars to store the wine the vines produced.

Later the Benedictine Sisters established a Catholic convent school for girls and a boys' school in the town. The girls' school continued but that for the boys has been abandoned and turned over to the federal government for use as a convalescent training center for disabled soldiers of the great war.

GREENE COUNTY LAND SOLD AT LOW FIGURE

Farm of the Late J. L. Davidson Sold at Auction—Rebekah Lodge Installs Officers—Other White Hall News.

White Hall, Jan. 7.—The farm of the late John L. Davidson in Wrights township, 275 acres, was sold by the master in chancery under partition in front of the White Hall National Bank Thursday, and was bid in by Carl Davidson, a son of the deceased, at $13,200. A bid of $8,000 held sway for a considerable length of time before a break for a higher figure was made, and a member of the family bid it in order to avoid the great sacrifice. The farm is mostly rough, but the rate of $35.50 at which it was bid off is very low for land in Wrights township.

Dr. A. C. Edwards will be transferred to Erie, Penn., soon to take the government inspectorship of a new hog cholera serum plant. Dr. Edwards has served as federal inspector at Gregory Farm Laboratory for the past two years with satisfaction to all concerned, because of his impartial and studied decisions, and after forming many strong friendships he and his family will leave with one consolation of getting back into their original stomping grounds, they having come from Pennsylvania.

Dr. Nelson of the state board of health, following a visit to White Hall this week, highly complimented the board of education on the action they have taken to protect the health of the community, in which praise the local board of health came in for a full share. The board of education has decided on further health measures by ordering that each child in school be examined as to throat and nose disease on a certain week in each month, the days being designated as Tuesday and Thursday.

There is no truth in the report that the Alsey Brick and Tile Co., has passed into the hands of the Walsh interests of St. Louis, owners of the brick plant at Vandalia, Mo. H. T. The new officers of Adams Rebekah lodge, I. O. O. These officers were installed this week by Mesdames Belle Evans and Elora Henderson. The monthly social of the Past Noble Grand club was held this week at the home of Mrs. Frank Dawdy, Miss Bessie Culbertson assisting Mrs. Dawdy as hostess. The decorations of pink and green were extended to the dining table and the whole effect was one of unusual brilliancy, the menu being in keeping with the simple splendor. Officers were elected as follows: President, Cora McClure; Vice President, Catherine Rogers; Treasurer, Belle Evans; Secretary, Ina Crabtree.

ILLINOIS POTATO CROP FALLS SHORT

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—(By The A. P.)—Averaging 49 bushels an acre, Illinois last year produced 6,566,000 bushels of potatoes, as compared with the 8,775,000 bushels of 1920 it is announced here by S. D. Fessenden, agricultural statistician for the federal bureau of crop estimates.

Offsetting this falling off in white potato production, the state gave an average acre yield of 110 bushels of sweet potatoes, and a total production of 990,000 bushels as compared with 873,000 bushels produced in 1920.

The quality of Illinois' white potato crop is estimated at 70 per cent of a high medium grade and at 84.9 per cent in the United States.

Calhoun county ranked first in producing an average of 110 bushels of white potatoes per acre, with Fulton and Williamson counties following with an average of 90 bushels.

Most sweet potatoes per acre were produced in Gallatin county, which averaged 155 bushels. Macon, White, Martin, Fayette and Henderson counties were next, with an average each of 150 bushels an acre.

MEXICO TO SPEND MORE FOR SCHOOLS

Mexico City—(By A. P.)—Less will be spent by the Mexican government in 1922 for the army and more for schools than ever before. The army budget for 1922 calls for $124,282,859 or more than $30,000,000 less than the 50,000 men to which strength the various units are now being rapidly reduced.

The 1922 budget includes an appropriation of $1,000,000 for the development of aviation.

The appropriation for schools is $50,000,000.

MODERN METHODS TO MAKE EGYPTIAN LAND BEST IN THE STATE

Secretary of Illinois Farmers' Institute Says That It Can Be Made to Rival the Soil of the Corn Belt—Dairymen and Fruit Growers Have Made Good On the Land

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 7.—Poor lands of Illinois "Egyptian Empire" in southern Illinois, by nature too impoverished to raise much more than "poverty grass" and mortgages, can be made to rival the rich soil of the corn belt farther north if properly treated by modern methods of agriculture, according to H. E. Young, secretary of the Illinois Farmers' Institute.

When one crosses the Baltimore & Ohio railroad tracks which traverse the state from St. Louis to Vincennes, Ind., he enters the land of "Egypt" and as he pushes southward he passes many farms which for years were considered agriculturally hopeless.

Not all of Egypt was so destitute of hope, but enough of the land was so poor that southern Illinois was considered foreign to Illinois agriculture.

Then came the awakening. Dairymen and fruit growers were the first to seize upon the opportunities of Egypt. Admirably adapted to dairying and fruit growing southern Illinois has gained recognition in these branches of agriculture but it remained to the late Cyril G. Hopkins noted soil expert to prove that Egypt could still more, Mr. Young said.

Proper application of scientific agriculture and faith in the possibilities which lie there is all that is needed to bring Egypt up to the position of a rival of the great corn belt of central Illinois, according to Mr. Young.

Egypt's first test along general agricultural lines was started in 1902 by Mr. Hopkins. He purchased a farm in Marion county near its north boundary. Friends familiar with the natural soil, referred to Hopkins' property as "Poorland Farm," so the owner adopted the title as the official name for his farm.

The Hopkins farm, according to Mr. Young, was no better than the average run of impoverished land in that section of the state. If anything, he added, it was below the average in soil.

"Those who knew of its impoverished condition were inclined to question the sanity of anyone who would pay real money for such obviously poor land," Mr. Young said. But Dr. Hopkins was neither crazy nor ignorant of the true condition of the soil. He knew it was poor, so poor that it would raise nothing besides poverty grass and mortgages, but that did not dampen his conviction that it could be made productive of profitable crops.

"The fact that it was poor land, agriculturally abandoned, made it all the more desirable from his standpoint. It could be bought cheaply and unless soil investigations were made, wrong could be profitably improved. He was ready to stake his reputation as a soil doctor on a practical demonstration. He burned his bridges behind him, and he lived to see his theory proved beyond doubt. 'Poorland Farm' was improved so that its crop yields became equal to those on higher priced corn belt lands of central Illinois and its soil is no longer what its name implies."

Since the death of Mr. Hopkins "Poorland Farm" has been operated by the Hopkins Memorial association whose object is to continue along the course laid out by the noted founder.

In fertilizers and clover crops lie the secret of the regeneration of Egypt as a wheat and corn country, Mr. Young continued.

Southern Illinois has the advantage over the high priced lands of the corn belt, Mr. Young said, in that its cheaper lands can be put into pasture for raising the "feeder" supply for the central part of the state. Central Illinois farmers feel that they cannot afford to put their high priced land into pasture but they want cattle and hogs to prepare for the market after they have reached the "feeding" stage. Corn is the great fattener and they have the corn. Egyptian farmers can profit by this demand by producing the "feeders" for central Illinois farmers who will gladly buy from their southern Illinois neighbors rather than from western stockmen Mr. Young said.

ADD FIL MODERN
Hard roads will bring an era of prosperity to Egyptian farmers, Mr. Young predicted. Bankers of southern Illinois, if they would abandon some of their conservatism, could hasten the day when "Egypt" can successfully compete with the corn belt country, he declared, by launching and supporting soil improvement organizations to nourish the agricultural plant which has slumbered so long in the clay hills of the erstwhile land of poverty.

GERMANY KEEPING EYE ON CONFERENCE

COLOGNE—Germany generally has been keeping a watchful eye on the Washington conference for limitation of armaments thru the newspapers which have published columns of cable dispatches each day.

Writing in the Cologne Post, a daily newspaper published by the British army on the Rhine, "A Student of Germany," says that, as the bulk of Germany's old navy lies at the bottom of Scapa Flow, it is not naval disarmament in which Germany today has the primary interest. He adds:

"Germany is much concerned with military, or land disarmament proposals from Washington with almost feverish anticipation."

The writer refers to Germany's army of 100,000 as provided by the Treaty of Versailles as "figures on paper," contending that there are secret military organizations throughout the country. "The Tyrol today is a center of military intrigue," he says. "Bavaria goes with it."

The writer, however, sees a glimmer of hope in his assumption that "Germany (or some of her) has shown some signs of 'turning over a new leaf.' Vast sections of the community and most of her present leaders would not lead her into war. The Socialist to a man would revolt, if war were preached."

In conclusion, he says: "Germany looks to the Washington conference with a heart full of hope."

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK EXCHANGE NOTES

What's the matter with cattle trade? This apparently insoluble enigma has been frequently propounded of late. Many reasons have been elicited, all more or less logical, but although the diagnosticians have been able to determine causes and prescribe remedies, application is difficult. Usually with the turn of the year beef trade picks up, more favorable substantial recovery would be a reasonable expectancy. At present prices hogs are readily cleared and in the case of sheep and lambs a broad outlet exists, but the cattle market has been a distinct disappointment, even after material improvement in hides which have advanced 50 to 100 percent compared with the low spot early in 1921. The packing house strike has undoubtedly exerted an unfavorable influence during the past thirty days, crippling as it has, the buying power of the big packers, but the chief handicap is undoubtedly restricted beef consumption which can only be remedied by reducing cost to the public and increasing the purchasing capacity of the masses.

During the past two weeks the Chicago Live Stock Exchange has been under the necessity of advising feeders to hold cattle back, a drastic measure that would not have been resorted to if an emergency had not existed. It proved effective not only in facilitating a clearance of stale stock, but in arresting declines. On short runs prices have reacted sharply, but it has been impossible to hold such gains whenever a few cattle more than were actually needed arrived. The beef market has been on a ragged edge right along efforts to advance. Prices promptly narrowing the retail outlet. Under the circumstances the officers of the Chicago Live Stock Exchange concluded that the safest place for cattle was in the feedlot, its advice being generally acted on, so that volume of marketing has been substantially reduced during the past two weeks. This should afford opportunity to clear up congestion in distributive channels giving the trade a fresh start.

As the feeder movement has been restricted in volume on account of the slump in fat cattle and most of the steers on corn have not reached a stage where they are actually pressing on the market temporary curtailment of the movement is not likely to result in serious accumulation of beef in the country. For thirty days past a large percentage of the fed cattle reaching Chicago were new-corn product and only in decent flesh many having gone back to the country for another feed. As the season works along cattle always improve in condition and work into stronger hands. Last year this had the effect of making too many big cattle, an outcome not possible of repetition this season as a load of big steers headed toward the feed lot has been a novelty. The old crop of heavy cornfeds has practically disappeared, hence it is not improbable that moderate weight will acquire a reasonable degree of popularity with killers.

Spring cattle activity is heralded by occasional purchases on pasture account. Several transactions of magnitude have been recorded in the Southwest recently and Wisconsin grazers have placed orders for light cattle to be filled during the next 60 days in anticipation of a high market in March and April, suggesting an interesting stocker situation. A heavy movement of southern stockers from the South to the Northwest is unlikely, for financial reasons if nothing else, although millions of acres of grass are unutilized in that section. The spring stocker market will be regulated largely by available funds. War Finance Corporation advances and the extent to which such money is available will determine cattle cost and market activity.

Packers are still buying hogs sparingly, owing to crippled slaughter facilities, but demand from Eastern shippers has been so insistent and voluminous as to maintain a healthy market in January and February, but until the packing town labor conditions become normal the market will probably continue choppy. Opinion as to the course of price differs but no pronounced lower-price view is heard, in fact, it is likely that packers will want hogs at current prices as their killing and curing facilities improve. Every advance starts a run; resultant breaks check the movement. There is no pronounced bullish sentiment in trade circles at least for the next 60 days, as it is the evident intention of the big packers to fill cellars with product at the least possible cost.

January and February prices will be determined by supply volume and eastern demand, which at this moment is decidedly healthy. Lambs have reached to the high point of February; mature sheep are also in demand, although the spread between aged and young stock indicates preference by consumers for lamb, regardless of price. It is proving a profitable season for feeders, western lambs taken out last fall at $6.50@$7 per cwt. returning to make $11@$11.50, feeders who stuck to lambs recovering at least part of the money lost last season. This, however, is doing corn belt feeders little good as they bought western lambs sparingly last fall for several reasons, not the least being lack of money. A drought in Texas has filled feed lots near Chicago, unseasonably with thousands of refugees which will go to the butchers during the winter, instead of late in the spring as grass product when Texas usually breaks prices. The whole market has a firm undertone with every indication of holding present levels.

Both wool and hide markets are strong, although neither clothing nor leather are prosperous manufacturing processes at the moment. Since last April important decisions of the hides have advanced 50 to 100 percent, which is significant in view of curtailed tanning operations and limited consumption of raw stocks, but the big stock of hides no longer exists; packers are well sold up and the hide market appears to be of a sound basis. As the emergency tariff insures practical exclusion of foreign wools for an indefinite period, manufacturers are restricted to domestic wools and foreign products now in this country.

Without live stock American agriculture cannot prosper. This industry affords the only method of marketing the bulk of the coarse grains and roughage, and practically the entire pastoral production of the country. Without cattle and sheep there would be no prosperity for the western half of the United States; minus cattle and hogs, the commerce of the Mississippi Valley would dwindle. So essential an industry cannot suffer permanently without involving all others.

The man at the market has been through a trying period. As the responsible agent of the live stock producer he has borne the brunt of a hard fight, in which he has given customers his best efforts. His expenses have been maintained at the highest level since the present market system was established, and in furnishing service essential to meeting the requirements of his patrons he has been afforded no opportunity to economize.

The new year holds out promise of more stable and probably higher markets, the latter development being contingent on re- The prospect is decidedly more favorable than a year ago. Let us at least indulge in a hope that a year hence most of our present troubles will have been relegated to the rear.

About Sheffield Plate

The average person is under the impression that "Sheffield Plate" is an Electroplated ware. Although many beautiful Sheffield designs have been imitated in this manner the genuine is not so made.

The true Sheffield plate, so much sought for and treasured by those who know, has the silver rolled on copper—never on nickel or white metal—and never Electroplated.

Sheffield plate is made by placing a sheet of copper and a sheet of silver together and passing through rollers, cold, under heavy pressure and from this the desired articles are cut. It is a more expensive process than electroplating, but is everlasting and more beautiful in results obtained. "Sheffield Plate" dates from 1784. Buy the genuine Sheffield and never can there be disappointment. We shall be glad to show you pieces of this perfect ware.

"THE BEHAVIOR OF CROWDS"

A Psychological Study.
By Everett Dean Martin

At the close of the two great speeches, in some way which I was never able to understand, a young man (whose name, I think was Swift) "got the floor" on the great platform, and for about half an hour delivered himself of one of the most fiery, inflammatory, volcanic, tornado-like harangues I have ever listened to in all my long life. It was in sympathy, of course, with the deep feeling of the audience, but it was in itself merely wordy, frothy, illogical, hysterical, practically an infectious appeal to mob violence, utterly regardless of consequences and utterly destructive of every possible basis or principle of our civilization. The audience went wild, transformed in that brief half hour from an audience to one of Mr. Martin's frenzied "crowds." He did not see it, probably never heard of it, but if he had seen it he could scarcely have described the transformation more justly than is done in some of the passages of this book.

The furious crowd poured tumultuously into the street, with savage yells of "To the Court House!" I was swept along with it whether or no. For a hundred yards or more my feet did not touch the ground. The jam in front of the Court House was crushing. A huge timber mysteriously appeared passed over the heads of the crowd, shots were fired, two or three blows of the beam burst open the Court House door and the crowd faced the Marshal's guard. Word was flashed somehow thru the crowd that a man was killed at the door. The crowd melted and in five minutes I walked away unmolested and unnoticed.

Mr. Martin's book revives this dimmed recollection and in my mind, goes far toward confirmation of the accuracy of his judgment of the processes of "crowd" forming and "crowd" thinking—or rather lack of thinking. The bodily crowd such as I saw evolved from peaceful men and saw act as frantic fools are blood relations of such "crowds" as Mr. Martin describes.

Mr. Martin steps out boldly in the right and logical path when he holds that the cure for the evils he so vividly outlines is thru each man's rigid investigation, watchfulness and guidance of his own individuality of thinking and acting. If each of us did his own thinking and shaped his actions by conclusions so reached there would be no "crowds" such as this author describes, and little use for even a small police force.

A first reading will leave, on many minds an impression that the author, tho a real and honest independent thinker—indeed a bold and fearlessly aggressive thinker—leans dangerously near to being over-pessimistic. And this rather surprises the reader, because a man of such unmistakable courage rarely "fears his fate too much." For such a man to yield to such a mood is to do rank injustice to his own character. One may—as does this writer—sympathize warmly with nearly all his feeling and his thinking, but one should recall human history and reflect that the race has again and again risen from what seemed utter hopelessness.

Mollenbrok and McCullough

ness,—from, as one may say, what appeared to be the death of all human civilization. This old world, with the race of mankind has survived many a cataclysm and yet is full of order and beauty and hope, and many of us—this writer among them—have not lost hope that mankind is capable of surviving yet further disasters as stupendous as the wreck of Greek culture and even the collapse of the world-wide genius of Rome for organization, and its conservator and guide, Law. Yet this faith should not be allowed to obscure the fact that danger of some such disaster threatens, but should rather spur men to recognition and more strenuous effort to prevent. That is this author's aim. It is not matter for surprise if the contemplation of this necessity sometimes darkens unduly the author's own outlook.

The reader feels that the author is so keenly alive to the situation that he seems in some danger of himself falling into the grip of the "crowdism" he so justly condemns, but one is quite sure that if he should verge upon overstepping the border he would speedily recoil to safety.

Among minor matters one might remark and wish there were not there, Mr. Martin seems to think that race aversions,—known in this country as the "color line,"—is a kind of manufactured article, deliberately manufactured by mankind. It may be so strengthened in many cases, till it takes on the quasi authority of a fashion, but its almost universality in some form is proof that it has some basis in man's nature, or it could not exist at all. In any case it is a fact to be reckoned with and not merely "damped out of hand," so to speak.

Sometimes the author accuses something wrongly of "crowdism." For example he speaks of the so called "single tax" movement as a "crowd" product, and in this he is mistaken. Some few of its advocates may be a bit "crowdy" in method and flavor, but the attitude of its supporters as a whole is merely that of asking men and governments to try out the theory. Is not that as legitimate and reasonable as to "try out" a new steam engine?

In still smaller matters the author, as it may seem to many, loses in dignity and force by the use in his text of what one may call colloquialisms, such as "fed up" and the like. He may adopt this easy fashion because he thinks that the people who most need awakening to his thought will be attracted by that style. Perhaps they will be. Doubtless I am an "old fogey" and have not myself discovered the fact.

Again, he says "nearly every one in America can read." This does not fit into the conditions revealed by the examination of our recruits in the late war. This is a small detail only in this work, but one who writes for thinking people should not be inaccurate even in trifles.

Before closing let us give the author's own words, to show his direct style and point to a clue to his meaning in general.

"The Stuarts, Hohenzollerns, Hapsburgs and Romanoffs, with all their claims to divine rights, were little more than the living symbols of the respective nation crowds. They vanished when they ceased to represent successfully the crowd will.—In general, then it may be said that where the crowd is there is tyranny. Tyranny may be exercised thru one agent or thru many, but it nearly always comes from the same source—the crowd. Crowd rule may exist in a monarchical form of government or in a republic.—Whether more absolute in a democracy than in differently constituted states is a question."

Toward the close of the work, in his treatment of "Education as a Cure," we read:—

"Life may not be reduced to a logical unity, but it is an organic whole for each of us, and we do not reach that organic unity by adding mutually exclusive partial views of it together—a free spirit needs no crowds to keep up his faith—He contributes to the social not a copy nor an imitation, not a childish wish-fancy furtively disguised, but a psychic reality and a new creative energy. It is only in the fellowship of such spirits, whatever political or economic forms their association may take, that we may expect to see the Republic of the Free."

In these few lines one gets a fleeting glimpse of the breadth and scope of the author's conception of what he calls "crowd-rule," sees clearly that it is entirely, apart and wholly different from what is ordinarily meant by the word "crowd," or "the masses," and a still more fugitive glimpse of his basing the "only way out" on the recognition of the individual and his responsibility for and to himself.

But read the book. It is worth reading more than once. You may not be convinced—except, indeed of the author's honesty and force—but it will surely blow the dust out of some neglected, or even forgotten, corners of your mind, and furnish you with new inducement to give yourself the highest development you can reach. G. M. McConnel, Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 1921.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES

Miss Mildred Swanson, who has been appointed to take charge of the physics and assist in chemistry, reached the college Tuesday. She is especially equipped for this work and is of most pleasing personality. Miss Swanson received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Oberlin college and later her B. S. degree from the Kent State Normal and following that did graduate work at the University of Michigan. She has had successful experience as a teacher and will add much strength to the science work of the college.

The work of the Physical Education department has been advancing so rapidly that it has been found necessary to secure additional help in this department. Miss Peggy Boyd has been appointed to give all her time to this work, and arrived in Jacksonville Wednesday, January 4. Miss Boyd is a graduate of the Colorado Agricultural college, where she took a special course in Physical Education in addition to the regular four years of gymnasium work. She taught classes in Physical Education during the summer. During the present year she has been teaching in one of the St. Louis colleges, but desired to make a change where she could devote all her time to the work in physical education.

A new Pearson's generator for generating hydrogen sulphide gas has been installed in the advanced chemistry laboratory.

Word has just been received at the college of the birth of Pauline Parnell, on January first in Seattle, Wash. This young lady's mother is Effie McLaird Parnell, who, with her husband has had great success in clautauqua work and has been in Jacksonville on several occasions. Mrs. Parnell was a student at the college and specialized in lyceum work, public speaking and music.

President Harker returned Friday night from a very important meeting of the representatives of both the Illinois and Central Illinois Conferences, which was held in Bloomington, Friday, January 6th. This committee of seventy-six members represents all of the educational interests and the Preacher's Aid Societies of the two conferences. On Thursday the Ad interim committee met and adopted a tentative program for the larger committee to follow. This was adopted Friday and means a great step forward in the carrying out of the advances now planned for the institutions of the two conferences.

The Zoellner String Quartet, whose concert was announced for Monday evening, January 9th, the second of the artists series of the Illinois Woman's college, has been unavoidably postponed until Monday evening, March 27th. The next number of the course will be Myrna Sharlow, prima donna of the Chicago opera company, whose concert will be given on Monday evening, February 27th.

Policy Meets Approval

At the very beginning our policy was to render a perfect service at the lowest possible cost.

After one year of my business career, I found the public had faith in my statements.

I have not entered the undertaking profession to see how quick I can become rich from my misfortunes, and with this purpose ever in mind I shall maintain the right prices regardless of others.

Judging from the position I have gained after one year, my policy of conducting my business meets with your approval. Without it I could not have met with success. I shall continue to protect my clients at all times from unjust charges.

How I Was Wrecking the Lives of My Children

And Suffering Indescribable Tortures Myself Day and Night. A Mother's Terrible Confession.

For some time I had noticed that my two children a boy of seven and a girl of ten, were becoming highly nervous, irritable and very disobedient. I tried various punishments, even whipping, but they kept growing worse. My own nerves were all "on edge" the least thing would put me into a rage. I was too weak to work or enjoy life, and too nervous and irritable to go anywhere. I often suffered from severe heart palpitation and indigestion. I could not sleep at night. I had an almost constant dull aching pain in the back of my neck and head, and frequent a very disagreeable sense of fullness in the front part of my head. I often had severe pains across my back, which made me think I had kidney trouble. I could not begin to describe all the tortures and terrible pains which I endured. Finally I went to a doctor and told him my story. After studying my case, he told me I was the cause of my children's condition. He told me how the system only manufactured so much nerve force and that this vital fluid of life was stored in the nerve cells, much as electricity is stored in a storage battery. He said my two highly nervous children had seen a constant drain on the nerve force of my children, and that the constant nervous strain in the nerve cells which I had subjected them to had used up their nerve force. He said my children's condition was a direct result of my nervous condition. Later all this I found out to be true. After I realized my own nervous condition, and realized my own exhausted nerve centers, and the same was done for my children. I found them to be the nicest, sweetest children in the world—their whole disposition entirely changed.

The above is a hypothetical case, which a physician says may well illustrate thousands which exist today. Homes are wrecked, children ruined, all through exhausted nerve force. A very few people realize the terrible physical and mental tortures often caused by a depletion of the nerve-vital fluid.

In such cases, what you need is to put new nerve into your nerves, and more nerve into your blood. This is best accomplished by the use of Nuxated Iron. This valuable product contains

MANY MERCHANTS TO COOPERATE IN SALE

Trade Extension Committee of Chamber of Commerce Sign up Eighty-eight for Big Clearance Sale Will Run from Jan. 14 to Jan. 21, Inclusive

The Chamber of Commerce trade extension committee has almost completed its canvas of the merchants of the city for the big January Clearance Sale to be held Jan. 14-21. The committee has now secured eighty-eight merchants to co-operate in the sale, and need only twelve more to complete the required number.

The committee will begin the advertising work Monday. Towns of this vicinity will be placarded and much newspaper advertising will be used. Large cards will be displayed in all the store windows of the merchants joining in the sale. The merchants are working hard to make this sale the greatest ever held in the city.

The names of the merchants co-operating in this sale appear below.

ADVERTISE IN 1922! SAYS BABSON.

Famous Statistician Outlines First Opportunity of Coming Period

In discussing his recent trip about the country, Roger W. Babson, statistician and business authority, outlines the first opportunity of the coming period of prosperity as follows:

"On this recent trip, which took me into practically every large industrial center in the United States, I talked to business men, large and small, about their business, and we discussed both the present situation and future plans.

"It is very apparent that the executives of America have been busy since Jan. 1920, even if the businesses themselves have not.

In fact, American business men have probably done more real thinking since the depression set in than they did in the whole period of prosperity which preceded it. Almost every man I talked with has a plan for a new building, a new product, or the development of a new sales field. The project is on paper, the details have been worked out, and he is just waiting for conditions to get settled. All of these plans mean potential business for next year or the year after—actual orders will be placed just as soon as prices and markets reach stable levels.

"This situation apparent as we reach the bottom of the present area of depression in 1922, offers the first real chance of the coming period of 'improvement. Future business is now on the production counter. You can buy it cheaper now than you will be able to buy it at any time during the next four or five years.

"It takes no little courage to go counter to the popular current and spend money for advertising when immediate return is smaller than usual but I am convinced that the man who has that foresight and courage will gain an advantage—a running start—that will carry him thru the coming periods of improvement and prosperity.

"1922 is the year to use the reserve set aside during the fat years. Cut production costs as much as possible, but don't skimp your selling appropriation during 1922. Defer your expansion of your plant until next year, but this year—increase your advertising.

"Take the aggressive course! There will be considerable business this summer, more the coming fall and winter, more still next year. But the man who goes after it now—is the man who will get it.

"In general business the slight seasonal reaction which I forecast three weeks ago for January is already apparent. The Babsonchart Index shows business running seventeen per cent below normal—four per cent lower than last week.

FREE EXHIBITION OF WATER COLORS HERE

Art Association of Jacksonville Makes Possible Fine Exhibition Here Jan. 13 to 19.

A few items about the personnel of the artists contributing to the free exhibition of water colors which opens Friday, Jan. 13, may be of interest to the art lovers of Jacksonville.

John S. Carlson, who has made a specialty of snow and woodland scenes, was selected to organize the School of Art for Broadmoor academy in Colorado Springs.

Miss Edith Emerson is a mural painter, a friend and co-worker of Miss Violet Oakley. She also designed the Roosevelt memorial window in the Chief synagogue of Philadelphia.

Miss Felicie Waldo Howells needs no introduction to art lovers in Jacksonville. She is about twenty-five years of age, has a studio in New York City in winter and in Gloucester, Mass., in summer.

Mr. C. S. Kaelin of Cincinnati, Ohio, a favorite among artists, is of a retiring, reticent nature, which is reflected in his paintings.

F. Luis Mora has won an enviable reputation by his work upon Spanish subjects.

Thornton Oakley, a pupil of the late Howard Pyle, has been commissioned by leading publications for illustrations taken in foreign lands. He is secretary of the Philadelphia Water Color club and has charge of the Pennsylvania Museum School of Industrial Art.

Mr. Birger Santzen's water colors are given the place of honor in the Philadelphia Water Color club's exhibition. He is at the head of the art department of the Bethany college in Lindsborg, Kans. He works in oil and water colors and makes lithographs and wood block prints.

Miss Alice Schills of Columbus, Ohio, paints children most charmingly.

Mrs. F. Walter Taylor has kindly consented to add four paintings from her gifted husband's collection. His death was a very great loss.

Mr. Zimmerman's fine collection will also include that which was exhibited in the Corcoran gallery in Washington.

David B. Milne is one of the cleverest of modernists.

Charles Emile Heil is a painter of birds and there will be many other artists represented who are celebrated.

The Art Association of Jacksonville's free exhibit of water colors will open Friday, Jan. 13, at 2 p. m. in the David Strawn

CONSERVATORY NOTES

Work was resumed in the Conservatory on Thursday morning, January 5th.

There will be a student's recital next Friday afternoon, January 12th at four o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Mr. Quast sang in a performance of Sandel's "Messiah" in Winnipeg, Canada, during the Christmas holidays.

Mr. Munger gave a piano recital in Xenia, Ohio, Wednesday evening December 28th.

Miss Helen B. Sorrells will play a violin solo for the D. A. R. accompanied by Mr. Willard Mesner, next Tuesday evening, January 10th.

Phi Omega will hold its next meeting on Tuesday, January 17.

Cleol Crabbe has arrived in the city to make a short visit with his mother, Mrs. Hattie Crabbe on Morgan street. Mr. Crabbe has been making a five months' tour of the west visiting in Utah and Idaho at the homes of Robert Nelling, formerly of St. Louis and Durrell Ferguson, formerly of this city. Mr. Crabbe expects to leave for the west again where he will locate.

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The most important business meeting of the year for Central Christian church will be held Wednesday evening, Jan. 11th, at 7:30 in the entertainment hall of the church. Annual reports will be given, officers elected for the year and a general outlook for the church will be presented.

How to Care for Your Eyes

Eyestrain is one of the most insidious evils of the times. Hard usage, bright lights, nervous tension—all put too great a load upon the eyes.

The only safeguard is to wear the proper glasses as soon as you need them—possibly for a short time only.

Have Your Eyes Examined

The only safe plan is to have your eyes examined before this strain weakens the delicate nerves and muscles that control vision.

C. H. STORY WRITES FROM FLORIDA

Jacksonville Man Tells of Auto Trip Into the Southern States.
A Real Pleasure Journey.

West Palm Beach, Florida Jan.
1 1922.

Dear Editor Journal:—
On this first day of the New Year, I am thinking of friends in the Northland, and I think I'll drop them a line, to let them know.

Yes, it is mid-winter, but I am sitting on the east porch of a little vine-covered cottage, just bordering the west side of the famous Dixie Highway, and cars are rushing by at the rate of about four or five a minute.

The air is fresh and delightfully pleasant, so much so I am without a coat, and children are playing in the neighboring yards like real summer time, indeed.

Just in front of our porch is a beautiful bougainvillea vine, loaded with its peculiarly beautiful reddish purple flowers; on the one side is the beautiful fire-red poinsettia in full bloom. Then there are the rich dark-red and peach-yellow hibiscus, and waxygold alamaunda, while all about are croton bushes, mango and eucalyptus trees, and both sides of the street leading directly from the front of our door are thick set with large cocoanut palms, leading down to the beautiful Lake Worth, that separates the West Palm Beach, from Palm Beach, each city beautiful in its-self as the lay of land and proximity to the Lake and the great Atlantic lends natural attractions.

Truly it seems very odd, such a New Year.

I am sure you would be interested in some description of our trip down, which was a wonderfully delightful drive of two weeks, beginning on the last day of October. We drove directly east to Indianapolis, then South to cross the Ohio river from New Albany to Louisville, Kentucky.

Not far in Kentucky we began to climb into the hills and low mountains, and among higher roads that wound as best it could from mountain to mountain, sometimes high above a long stretch of valley where the autumn sun painted the last touches of the most delicate coloring to the green and red and gold of the forest leaves after Jack Frost had rudely touched them and left them in more sombre hues. Many a time we were made to exclaim,

"How Beautiful," as we drove along a mountain side thick covered with such forests of foliage as the sun's rays worked to the best advantage. So by this route we came to Cave City, where we stopped a day and explored the wonderful Mammoth Cave. Never before had we dreamed of its magnitude—it surely is rightly named.

With the guide, who told us in case of trouble, or should we need him to call him "Mack" with a number of other tourists we started, lighted torches in hand, for the long tramp through the various avenues, and channels, coming finally to the river which flows along three hundred and sixty feet below the surface.

We took to the boat, while "Mack" took to the oar, and we moved silently for a while, then as some one ventured to speak we were startled to note the peculiar sound reverberations, and we were made to remember this was "Echo" river.

Then the guide sang a few notes and we listened while the sound traveled farther and farther, while it seemed to go up one avenue, and come back by another and so on, the tones seemed and come and meet and blend into a melody like the tones of a huge pipe organ, then again flowing and faintly farther going until a far away cave man seemed to send back the sweetest music, just barely audible, and we listened and wondered.

Then we sang "America" and we never before heard the music sound so pleasing.

From here we drove toward Bowling Green, and we just beyond stopped to see the "Lost River," where for two hundred yards a river flows under the moonday sun, then again flows into a rocky cavern to nobody knows where. Comes out of the foot of a hill deep down in a steep basin, and goes as it comes, while we listened to the gurgle as the waves wash the rocky ribs of the cavern.

Next we stopped in Nashville, Tennessee just the day after Gen.
Pershing had been there, and the city was decorated in the national colors in profusion.

As we came on over rocky roads and hill country we found we had crossed the line into Alabama, where we found still other sights to interest, entertain and work into strong hands.
After leaving central Indiana we had seen no farming lands, as we know farming land, but cornfields were replaced by small fields of tobacco, where the mule and "nigger" were in their element.

In Tennessee we began to see fields of cotton, but in Alabama there was more cotton, smaller mules, and blacker "niggers." The country seemed to be on the point of being abandoned, since the buildings were so old and shabby and in fact, scores were abandoned.

Everything showed the marks of time—seemed so old and neglected, as if the people had lost heart and given up in despair.

The little fields were gravelly, stony, and the soil depleted to the point of very low production.

Then through Georgia with its red clay soil, with numerous farm homes utterly abandoned and the few remaining people looked so old and forlorn as if the Creator had forgotten them, and they were despondent because of it.

Then we drove into Florida, from the north, about the middle of the state from East to West then we came to the sandy surface, where the trees hung full of Spanish moss that festooned not only the forest trees but fruit trees as well, but the fruit farmer resented their encroachment and constantly fought to free his trees from its grasp.

The frosty air of our home state had given place to balmy breezes and warmer sunshine and we no longer left our auto curtains or overcoats on, so mostly with rock surfaced roads, with a short stretch of sand we came via, way of the state, east to New Smerna on the east coast of Dixie Highway. By this highway, a shell surfaced road, oiled to make it black, to protect the eyes of the driver toward the sunshine at mid-day, we came first to "Stuart, on the St. Lucie," a nice little town where are the finest waters for fishing we have yet found.

At this point we had been away from home fourteen days, had driven fourteen hundred miles, had not had a drop of rain or a mile of mud, and no car trouble of any consequence. We never hope to have another such enjoyable trip when all shall go so well from start to finish.

After two weeks in Stuart, we located in West Palm Beach, a little city of 8,000 population where we find a wonderful spirit of progress and such a wonderfully rapid growth, that it makes us wonder what is wrong with our city at home.

Residence and business houses are being erected as rapidly as men and material can be had, and many contracts are waiting. A new town site is laid out and new buildings just north and one south, while a little city,
"Hollywood by the Sea," between here and Miami is just now developing.

With it all we wonder what Florida would do if she had the whole face of the earth in white sand, which needs ever so much fertilizing to start an develop small plants and vegetables while the larger plants and trees seem to thrive not because of the sand, but in spite of it.

Just now the real influx of tourists is on, and these are busy days for hotels, cafes, sight-see-

FINE WATER COLORS TO BE SHOWN HERE

Art Association of Jacksonville Makes Announcement of Exhibit to Be Opened Jan. 13 at David Strawn Art Home.

We are glad to learn the collection of water color paintings from the American Federation of Arts has arrived from New York City and it promises to be most interesting and beautiful. One artist
Mr. M. W. Zimmerman of Philadelphia, was invited by the directors and officers of the Cocoran Gallery of Arts at Washington, D. C., to have an exhibition last spring of his own paintings only in this gallery of arts. This collection of paintings exhibited at the time in Washington, D. C., is included in his exhibition here to be given at the David Strawn Art Home.

This free exhibition of water colors will open Friday, January 13th, at 2 p. m., at the David Strawn Art Home, 331 West College avenue, and continue one week, every afternoon and evening from 2 till 9 p. m. except Sunday when it will be open from 12 to 6 p. m. The final day of the exhibit is January 19th.

LOCAL RED CROSS GETS VALUABLE BOOK.

The Morgan County Chapter of the American Red Cross has just received from national headquarters in Washington a copy of its new "Handbook of Social Resources of the United States," the only compilation of its kind in the country. Within its pages has been collected material descriptive of the great body of national social welfare organizations, thus bringing to this community accurate information concerning these public agencies.

Social workers have long voiced the need for just such a publication.

Because of its wide friendship and membership the Red Cross was especially fitted to gather the data contained in the Handbook.

The Red Cross Chapter workers and others engaged in social work far from the cities in which some of these national social welfare organizations are located, and especially to those who work independently or with small organizations the volume should be of inestimable value, for to them information regarding these national groups has not always been readily available in the past.

The Handbook is an encyclopedia directory of about 400 nation-wide social agencies, which conduct activities of general interest and which offer their resources not only to members but to the outside public.

A nominal charge of one dollar is made for the book, which should save many dollars in wasted effort and duplication which might result from lack of knowledge of social welfare activities.
The Handbook seems admirably qualified for its purpose.

RED FOX KILLED NEAR MURRAYVILLE

Wednesday evening while going for the cows, William McGrath saw something in the woods that attracted his attention so he went back to the house and got his gun. When he got back near the same place again a red fox jumped up. He shot and killed it. The fox measured 45 inches from tip to tip.

Let 'Lorain' Cook the Meals Every Day

For something particularly appetizing to eat, you need no longer hunt a restaurant. You can have the most tasteful foods at your own home table — not just occasionally, but every day.

Every woman has fine recipes, and most women mix ingredients as accurately as the best of chefs. But when it comes to cooking—that's where the professional chef has won out.

But not so any more—the

LORAIN OVEN HEAT REGULATOR takes the guess and the gamble out of home cooking. It is absolutely accurate and reliable; cooks without mistakes. It needs no watching.

Every bit of food is properly cooked.
It gives exact results every time.
Every meal becomes a delight to your appetite. The world's best chef cannot beat "Lorain" home cooking.

When she has a "Lorain," that good woman who is so eager to please you with her cooking, can cook an entire meal—steak or roast, fish or chicken, vegetables, dessert—all at one time and with the same sure success that she can cook the simplest single dish.
And she need not once look at the oven until serving time.

No More Oven Watch- ing and Guessing

The "Lorain" ends her days of guessing, worry and oven slavery. It eases her muscles and nerves and proves to her that the joy of living is not idle talk.

Wonderful, simple, accurate, sure—that's the "Lorain." We can't begin to tell the whole story here.
But we have a book, "AN EASIER DAY'S WORK," written especially for you. Simply call for your copy.

GREENE COUNTY MAN IS STRUCK BY TRAIN

Edward Hubbard Met Death at an Early Hour Thursday on C. & A. Track West of White Hall.

White Hall, Jan. 5.—The remains of Edward Hubbard were found alongside the Chicago & Alton track about one hundred yards east of the depot at Drake station, seven miles west of this place, about 7 o'clock this morning, being first discovered by the crew of a freight train, east bound.

The head was crushed, and the position of the body gave evidence that he had been struck by a west bound train. He had been drinking, and was in Roadhouse on Wednesday, boarding the passenger train there for Drake at 10 o'clock at night, and the last seen of him was when he got off this train at Drake station.

He resided at Patterson with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hubbard, and it is believed that he started to Patterson when he followed the railroad track east beyond the road crossing, became lost and lay down near the track in a stupor.

Coroner Edwards arrived from Carrollton at noon and conducted an inquest, after which the remains were brought to the Fox undertaking rooms in White Hall. The body had been moved to the depot at Drake station, after being found.

The deceased was about thirty-five years of age and unmarried. He had served terms in both the army and navy, having been discharged about a year ago, and since which time he has been about Patterson with his parents.

He comes of a family of high standing. Besides the parents, there are two sisters in Patterson, Mrs. Archie Wilmington and Mrs. Enel Owdom. Victor, a brother, resides in Michigan, and arrangements for the funeral pend his arrival.

Tracks in the mud indicate that the man went to his doom before the ground became frozen hard during the night.

LOCATE SITE OF FORT CREVE COEUR

Was On Bluff Just Across River From Peoria — Some Still Doubt Location.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—(By The Associated Press.)—More than twenty years of investigation have been ended by the announcement here that the historic site of Fort Creve Coeur, on a bluff across the Illinois river from Peoria, has been definitely decided. Fifteen acres surrounding the site have been given to the state, and a building marker has been made ready for the formal ceremony of designation.

Announcement of the decision, by the Illinois State Historical society was made by the State Department of Public Works and Buildings. The full report of the Historical society will be made public later.

Contentions have been born, and have lived and died, while this controversy has gradually increased in interest and warmth. All actual remains of the fort built 241 years ago by the French chevalier La Salle had been lost long ago. The Historical Society weighed all arguments, and decided. But even now that the Illinois Historical society has spoken, the doubt has not downed and more contenders that Homer had birthplaces still maintain their land holds the sacred remnants of this earliest Illinois fort.

Owners of the land on which the marker will be placed are Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Wagner of Fond du Lac township, Tazewell county. They have deeded the land to the state. Among their most energetic contenders was the City of Peoria, which desired that the marker be put on the Peoria side of the river. Some argument for Fort Creve Coeur on Peoria's side was adduced, but it was too weak.

Maps from official archives of the French government at Paris put the fort on the Tazewell side. With that decided the controversy was still warm. Land owners up and down the river laid their claim.

Investigated Many Years. "The search for the truth as to the exact site," says an announcement by the Department of Public Works and Buildings, "was pursued over many years. An examination of all the Illinois histories, both translations and originals of French writers on the subject, and many other books have been made, to make the collection of opinions as complete as possible.

This old fort provides Illinois history with one of its most memorable chapters. Its name, "Creve Coeur" tells the tale of heartaches of that French explorer, LaSalle, when he beheld his men deserting him and Indian allies refusing to go further into the Illinois country. He saw the glory that awaited him in France vanishing.

The story is thus told by the department of public works:

"One of the most interesting periods of Illinois history is that of French discovery, exploration and settlement. While Father Marquette, in 1673, made a voyage down the Mississippi river, no attempt was made to possess or colonize the country visited. That was left for that wonderful man, the intrepid chavillier, LaSalle, whose imagination was fired by the scanty account of a vast fertile country, whose only inhabitants were Indians.

"Backed by Frontenac, then governor of Canada, in his scheme of taking possession of this unknown country and the great river which would furnish a short route to the Pacific Ocean and the commerce of the east, he easily secured the necessary endorsements of court and started out. After many disheartening delays and disappointments, he reached, in December, 1679, the Illinois river with his party, consisting of 30 laborers, three priests and Henry de Tontil.

On January 4, 1680, LaSalle entered Peoria Lake. On the morning of the 5th, he landed at the Indian Village which was where the river narrows below the lake and assured the Indians of his peaceable intentions. Cordial relations were soon disturbed by a nocturnal visit to the Indians of a Miami chief who told them that LaSalle was a friend of their enemies, the Iroquois. This tale so alarmed the Indians that they decided not to assist LaSalle in his project of reaching the Mississippi. Many difficulties arose and some of LaSalle's men deserted. He decided to build a fort to protect the balance from the Indians.

"At this time disaster after disaster befell LaSalle in his enterprises. The Griffin, his first vessel, with its valuable cargo of furs which he depended upon for his expense was lost. A second vessel with merchandise from France, was wrecked while ascending the St. Lawrence. It is commonly supposed that LaSalle, dejected at his losses and his increasing difficulties called this fort 'Creve Coeur' (broken heart) on that account.

"The site of Fort Creve Coeur was selected by LaSalle January 15, 1680. The fort was built up in the termination of a ridge at a distance from the river which extended to the base of the ridge during severe rains. It was defended on one side by the river, that is to say, the side facing the stream was abrupt enough to be regarded as inclosed. Two wide deep ravines fortified two other sides. A trench was excavated in the rear uniting the two ravines, thus forming an irregular square surrounded by a natural plateau. The location of the trench is plainly visible.

"It was not until December, 1681, that his final journey down the Illinois was begun. He passed several weeks in the Illinois valley and at last reached his goal, the mouth of the Mississippi, in April, 1682."

VAGRANT WIRELESS SIGNALS ARE MYSTERY

LONDON.—By The Associated Press.—Despite the most diligent research, experts are not yet able to say whence the mysterious "vagrant" signals come that every day, and particularly at night, are received at wireless aeriels.

"From the earliest days of long distance wireless telegraphy, the difficulties in reception due to vagrant or natural electric waves and atmospheric electrical discharges passing down the receiving aerial have been the bane of the wireless telegraphist." Professor John Ambrose Fleming of London University told the Royal Society of Arts, he said.

"Having regard to the fact that the positive atmospheric electrical potential gradient of the earth increases at the rate of about 100 volts per meter of ascent, roughly speaking, it is not surprising that aeriels several hundred feet high may be traversed by quite large currents due to this cause alone which may utterly swamp the feeble signal currents."

Professor Fleming is the inventor of the thermionic valve receiver, which revolutionized wireless telegraphy and telephony.

MILLIONS IN AWARDS TO INJURED WORKERS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—(By The A. P.)—Awards of nearly $7,000,000 to injured workers and their survivors were made by the Illinois Industrial Commission during 1921, George B. Arnold, state director of labor, announces.

Through the agency of its fourteen free employment bureaus, the state department of labor found employment for 150,000 during the past year, Director Arnold said.

Factory inspections during the year numbered over 137,000.

"The great reconstruction period now upon us, with the wave of unemployment slowly receding, indicates that much better things are in store for 1922," Director Arnold said.

"The Illinois department of labor had coped in a material way with the industrial situation during the year 1921.

"This was done without one cent of cost to the workers themselves or to the employer, benefiting from the scientific selection of our superintendents.

"The industrial commission extended its work over the preceding year, 80 per cent."

PREPARING FOR PASSION PLAY

Long List of Characters Selected. Some Have Played Chief Roles for Last Forty Years—Refuse to Let Motion Pictures Be Made.

OBERAMMERGAU.—(By the A. P.)—The long list of characters for the Passion Play which will be produced here a number of times in 1922 have been selected and rehearsals have begun. The chief roles will be played again by veterans some of whom have participated in the presentations for 40 years.

Anton Lang will portray the character of Christ for the third time. Antone Lechner will be protagonist for the second time. Other characters will be Peter, Andreas Lang; John Melchior Breit-samter; Judas, Guido Myra, Calaphas, Hugo Rutz; King Herod Gregor Breitsamter; Annas, Sebastian Lang; Pilate, Hans Mayr; Mary, Martha Seitz; Magdalene, Paul Rendl.

One of the last selections was Guido Diemer for choir leader. There has not been a performance of the play for 80 years that a Diemer was not leader of the choir or one of the important singers in it. Guido Diemer took part in the war, first as an artilleryist and later as an aviator. In 1919 he dedicated his life to the study of singing and shortly afterward appeared with pronounced success in various church concerts.

The Passion Play committee decided not to violate Oberammergau traditions by permitting pictures to be taken of the play. American moving picture representatives approached the committee with offers of millions of marks but their proposals were promptly rejected.

BIBLE PROVES POPULAR STUDY

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—(By the A. P.)—Among the ten subjects offered for readers desiring a state reader's certificate, the Bible is proving the most popular according to Miss Anna May Price, secretary of the commission.

"The Bible in the Light of Scientific Research" is the subject of the course. Any one who completed the course of reading and offers satisfactory proof will be given a certificate signed by state officials. Pamphlets describing the ten courses have been printed by the commission.

Next to the Bible, most demands are made for the courses on psychoanalysis and interior decoration.

COLLEGE PRESIDENTS TO ASSEMBLE JAN. 9

CHICAGO.—(By the A. P.)—College presidents and professors will assemble in Chicago next week in large numbers under the auspices of the Association of American Colleges and the Council of Church Boards of Education.

Dean Thomas Arkie Clark of the University of Illinois will speak at one session devoted to consideration of the direction of college students for their life work.

Viewpoints of the toilers as to college education will be presented by Spencer Miller, Jr., secretary of the Workers' Education bureau of American.

Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, president of Antioch college, Ohio, will talk of training college students for industrial life.

PRICES BID UP

LIVELY AT CLOSE
By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—A lively final hour following a light early market marked today's short session in the Chicago Board of Trade. Prices were bid up sharply toward the close and the final figures showed net gains of 14 to 18c in wheat, 2 to 10c in corn and 2 to 10c in oats.
Provisions were firmer and generally unchanged to 7 1/2c higher.
Wheat was inclined to slide at the start but strong commission houses absorbed offerings at $1.11 or under for May and easily took the slack out of the market. Reports of fresh flour exports and of further milling demand started the shorts to cover later and they found the pit almost devoid of offerings. Substantial gains were registered before they obtained all their wheat.
Aside from quiet export demand for wheat, the news was generally against the bears. St. Louis sold 56,000 bushels to mills over night. Dry weather continued southwest and coarse grains were strong.
Exporters were after corn and took 200,000 bushels here. The local cash market was affected by high bids to the country from outside markets and this was soon reflected in the pit.
Oats reflected a strength of its own mainly on southern and southeastern demand. There was a ready advance toward the close. Provisions ranged higher with live hogs but speculative demand was rather light and the full expectations of those who pointed out that the yards were paying for live animals the highest prices since October, were not realized.

CASH GRAIN REPORT

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—The cash wheat basis was firm and corn and oats were each 1c higher in Chicago today. The seaboard bought corn freely but country offerings were light as other markets were outbidding Chicago. Local handlers accordingly increased their bids to the country.
Cash sales were 13,000 bushels of wheat, 221,000 bushels of corn of which 200,000 were for export, and 15,000 for Canada; 60,000 bushels of oats, 1,400 of rye and 1,500 of barley.
Car lot receipts were: Wheat, 11; Corn, 178; Oats, 75; Rye, 3; Barley, 5.

Church Services Today

First Baptist Church—The Sunday school meets at 9:30 a. m. A welcome to the returning students awaits them in the Student Class taught by Prof. Lacey. The pastor, Rev. A. P. Howells, will take issue with Vincente Banez in his interpretation of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," at the morning service which occurs at 10:45 a. m. Singing by the mixed quartette. The fine report of the Mission given at the annual church meeting of last Wednesday night, indicates that the school will continue to meet each Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The School of Missions will again assemble at 6:30 p. m. There will be four classes on Sunday night. Join one of them. There were sixty six present last week. The lecture period beginning at 7:30 p. m., will include "A Song Story of a City Mission," at which Mrs. Hackett Wilder and Miss Helen Turner will sing. This being the month of "Intercession" suggested by the Baptist Board of Promotion, the prayer meeting on Wednesday evening will be devoted to a study of prayer. In place of the old fashioned "Week of Prayer" four Wednesday evenings will be devoted to this subject.

The Salvation Army, 108 E. College street—Meetings for Sunday, Jan. 8, 1922. Sunday school 2:30 p. m.; Young People's League, 6:30 p. m.; Evening service, 8:00 p. m. Also meetings through the week: Tuesday evening, 8:00 p. m.; Thursday evening, 8:00 p. m.; Saturday evening, 8:00 p. m. Every one is welcome. Come and bring your friends. Lieut. L. P. Hall.

Trinity Episcopal Church—J. F. Langton, Rector; H. M. Andre, Senior Warden; Prof. J. G. Ames, Junior Warden. First Sunday after Epiphany.

The One-Ton Truck

The Ford One-Ton Truck first made its appeal to the farmer and the merchant because of the merits of Ford Cars. And it made its wonderful reputation and great sales record because it lived up to every claim made for it.

The reliable Ford Motor, the special Ford steel chassis, the aluminum bronze worm-drive, all combine to produce a truck of unusual power, capacity and strength—a truck that lasts in service; a truck that solves the haulage problem at a very small operating and upkeep expense. Hence the demand for the Ford One-Ton Truck is constantly on the increase.

For the good of your business, whether it be farming, merchandising or manufacturing, you should come in and look over the Ford One-Ton Truck—NOW!

IMPORTANT

We are prepared to furnish the Ford Truck equipped either with Standard or Special Gearing. The Standard Gearing gives the truck a maximum of power. The Special Gearing increases the speed of the truck from five to seven miles an hour, converting it into a Fast Delivery Car.

LUKEMAN MOTOR CO

Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock the Ladies' Aid Society will hold the bi-monthly birthday party in the church.

Centenary Methodist church, C. D. Robertson, pastor—The great meeting of the Jacksonville District, which was held in this church last Wednesday, has left Jacksonville Methodistism immensely and intensely revived and inspired, and the church which had the honor of entertaining the meeting should be the one to profit most by it. The climax of the meeting came in Bishop Nicholson's masterly address Wednesday evening on world conditions. The services tomorrow will inevitably reflect something of the atmosphere of this meeting. Sunday school, with a class for every member of the family and the atmosphere of home, will convene at 9:30 a. m. under the direction of Superintendent A. C. Metcalf. Now that the holiday distractions are over, every member should be in his place. The morning worship will be the quarterly communion service. This is the one service no loyal Christian should miss. The Epworth League will meet at 6:30 p. m. Growing interest and numbers mark the meetings of this very important organization. Evening worship at 7:30 p. m. The pastor will preach from the theme, "A Single Track Soul." The School of Religion is progressing splendidly and there is still opportunity to enroll and derive much benefit from the studies. The monthly business and social meeting of the Epworth League will be held Thursday evening. Boy Scouts, Troop 5, will meet at the parsonage Thursday evening. Every scout should be present as there is some important business which must be done if the registration of the troop is properly carried out. The Go-to-Church club started off finely last Sunday. There is still time to enroll for this first semester, which ends March 31. Any one from six to sixteen years of age is eligible to membership.

State Street Presbyterian Church—Rev. W. H. Marbach, pastor; T. M. Tomlinson, S. S. superintendent; Mrs. Barr Brown, choir leader; Mrs. H. Ayers Bullard, organist. Come to Communion service at 10:45 a. m. Study the Bible at Sunday school, 9:30 a. m. Visit the Young People's Society at 6:30 p. m. Enjoy the evening service of prayer, praise and preaching at 7:30 o'clock when the pastor will preach on the theme: "Sincerity and Simplicity in Speech." Join us in worship and work if this is the church of your choice. We welcome you and yours.

Westminster Presbyterian Church, corner Westminster street and West College avenue—Sunday school at 9:30. College student's class, led by Miss Margaret Moore. Beginner's class at 10:30. Morning worship 10:45. Miss Hazel French, of Hancock, China, will speak upon "Christ in the Young Republic of China." Miss Louise Miller will sing. Evening worship at 7:30. A notable film "The Great Miracle" will be presented and Dr. Smith will preach upon it. This moving picture is an allegorical answer to the question: "If a Man Die, Shall He Live Again?" An illustrated fantasy picturing the reunion of kindred souls in the Great Beyond. This is one of the high class productions that has made a deep impression. Miss Louise Miller will lead the singing. The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor and the Intermediate C. E. will both meet at 6:30, the topic being, "Utilizing Opportunities." Gen. 41:14-40. 2 Cor. 6:1-2. Monday evening at 7:30 the Star Sports will meet for sportcraft and on Thursday evening for basketball in the college gymnasium. On Wednesday evening, Dr. Smith will give a blackboard talk upon "How is the Bible Inspired?" Boys and girls especially invited. On Congregational Church—George E. Stickney, pastor; Mrs. A. R. Gregory, choir leader; Mrs. G. E. Stickney, organist. Church school at 9:30. Dean G. H. S. Pitt, superintendent Dr. Post's Bible class meet at 10:00. Morning service at 10:45 with sermon by Dr. R. W. Gammon of Chicago. Religious Education Conference will be held at 4 at the home of Mr. G. H. Scott on Grove street. Christian Endeavor service at 6:30. Community Forum at 7:30. Dr. R. W. Gammon will speak on "Bringing up Father." From his wide experience with boys and girls and fathers, Dr. Gammon is well qualified to speak upon this subject. Prof. W. E. Kitch of the Illinois Conservatory will give special violin selections. Other appointments for the week are as follows: Junior Scouts Monday at 4. Tuesday the Ladies' Aid will meet at 3 in the Joy Prairie room, the Yojasov Campfire at 5. Wednesday, Boy Scout Troop No. 6 at 4. Prayer meeting at 7:30. This will be the annual memorial service of the church. Thursday, the Young Women's Guild will meet at 2:30 with Mrs. Dr. Clark on Grove street. Oklie Campfire meets at 4. Saturday, the Aokiya and Oceca Campfires meet. Rhoads Memorial Library open 2:30 to 5. Miss Georgia Fairbank, librarian. Chorus Choir meets at 5. "You'll like it at the Congregational Church."

Northminster Presbyterian Church—Walter E. Spoons, minister. Preaching at 10:45 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. by the pastor. The morning hour will be given to the Celebration of the Lord's Supper. There will be a reception of members at the morning service. The subject for the evening service will be: "I Will Go in the Strength of the Lord God." Christian Endeavor will meet at 6:30 p. m. The one thing in the church work that we are going to emphasize this year is the Sunday school. Every member of the church in the Sunday school is our goal. Remember that we meet at 9:30 a. m. William Biber, superintendent. Rev. Marbach will give his illustrated lecture on the Pyramids of Egypt Tuesday evening the 17th. This will be given for the benefit of the Missionary Society. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening.

Salem Evangelical Lutheran church—College and East streets. Rev. J. G. Kuppler, pastor. First Sunday after Epiphany. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. Public worship in German at 10:30 a. m. No evening service as 2 p. m. is the regular annual congregational will be held. Monday evening there will be a lecture on the Missouri Synod by the Rev. Edwin Sommer under auspices of the Luther Walther Circle. Everybody is cordially invited. The Concordia League will meet Thursday evening.

Grace Methodist Episcopal church—Thos. H. Tull, pastor. 9:30 a. m. Sunday school. T. V. Hopper, superintendent. We expect to see the usual attendance now that the holiday

John Kearns has built up an orchestra whose splendid selections every one should hear. 10:45 a. m., morning worship with the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. All ordained member ministers who are members of this congregation are asked to be present to assist. 2:30 p. m., Intermediate league. 6:30 p. m., Epworth league. 7:30 p. m., evening worship. Theme of sermon, "Lessons from the Life of Joseph." The program of music for the day will be for the morning service, "Hark, Hark My Soul" (Shelly), "Jesus, Shepherd of the Sheep" (Briggs); for the evening service, "O, Taste and See" (Marston), "To Do Good and Distribute" (Rogers). The January meeting of the official board will be held on Monday evening at 7:30. All members of the board are requested to attend.

Mount Emory Baptist church—Corner South Church and Marion streets. W. Henry Snowden, minister. Services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. The pastor will preach at both services. Morning subject, "God of the World"; evening subject, "The Destiny of Man." Rev. T. A. Johnson of Upper Alton, Ill., will come Monday to assist Pastor Snowden in the revival meeting. He will preach each night. His subject for Monday night "God Inquiring." Rev. Johnson is a successful revival preacher and should be heard by the people in large numbers. Sunday school at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Medora Bryant, superintendent. The slogan for tomorrow is "Will You Be Saved?" The Baptist Young People's Union will meet at 6:15 p. m. Mrs. Amelia Sharp, president. Mrs. Selena Douglass will sing a solo. Subject for discussion "The Principal Thing," led by Miss Ira Mallory. Come to the church of the royal welcome.

A very enthusiastic revival meeting is being conducted at Bethel A. M. E. church by the Rev. H. Franklin Bray, D. D., "The Rocky Mountain Evangelist," interspersed with the beautiful jubilee melodies of the fathers and mothers, suitable to lead a weary soul to Christ, and give the Christian a new hope in their mortality. Music is under the direction of Miss Fayette Bowen of Chicago Musical Conservatory. These meetings are being conducted for the good of Jacksonville and community regardless of race or denomination. Come and join us with your prayers and help to make Jacksonville an ideal city in which to live. 11:00 a. m. sermon by the Evangelist—"The Palm Tree Christian." 2:00 p. m. Sunday school. 3:00 p. m. Men and Boy's meeting, in which every man and boy of the city are invited. Subject: "Safety First" by the Evangelist. At the same hour, 3:00 p. m. there will be a special meeting for women and girls, conducted by Mrs. H. Franklin Bray at the Second Baptist church. Subject: "Christian Womanhood." Rev. H. H. Dewitt, pastor. 7:30 p. m., special service by the Evangelist, with excellent music from a strong gospel chorus. All are welcome. R. H. Hackley minister.

Brooklyn M. E. Church—G. W. Randle, pastor; J. H. Reid, Sunday School Supt. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. Public worship at 10:45 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Morning theme, "Pure Religion"; evening, "A Helpless Hero or the Tragedy of Misplaced Confidence." Epworth League at 6:30 p. m. begins the study of the new text book, "John Wesley, Jr." At the prayer meeting on Wednesday evening, the annual election of the Sunday school officers and teachers will be held.

All deposits made in our Savings Department during the first ten days of January will draw interest from the first of the month.

CONFERENCES AT NORMAL SCHOOLS
SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—(By the A. P.)—Conferences of Francis G. Blair, state superintendent of public instruction, and his supervisory force with county superintendents of schools, will be held in the five normal schools of the state, within the next four weeks commencing with a conference at the Illinois State Normal university at Normal, Jan. 12.

The other conferences will be at DeKalb, Jan. 19, Charleston, Jan. 24, Carbondale, Jan. 25 and Macomb Feb. 2.

First the county superintendents' annual reports will be considered, then the year's recitation and study programs, consolidation of schools, county census and attendance officer and the educational commission and rural schools.

A round table on school laws is scheduled for each conference, and an evening program at each normal school will be given in charge of the faculty. This program will relate to the preparation and certification of teachers. Those who will accompany Mr. Blair to the conferences, will be U. J. Hoffman and W. S. Booth, rural school supervisors; J. C. Hanna and H. M. Thrasher, high school supervisors; W. S. White, statistician, and A. L. Whittenberg, secretary of the Teachers' Certification Examining Board.

JOBLESS PROBLEM
BOTHERS PERUVIANS
LIMA, Peru.—(By the A. P.)—The temporary closing of several factories in this capital has increased the already grave problem of unemployment. In recognition of this condition, the government has undertaken to furnish passage at the expense of the state to workers now lacking employment, who wish to leave from Lima to other industrial centers of the country.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES

The College has recently received from Mrs. Faith Sturtevant Dutch of Winchester, Mass., a photostatic copy of a letter which Abraham Lincoln wrote to her grandfather, President Sturtevant on September 27, 1850. The letter is a very interesting one in which Abraham Lincoln explained to President Sturtevant why he did not run for Congress in that year.

The cabinets of the College Christian associations are planning to have preliminary meetings in preparation for the visit of Dr. Cleland B. McAfee of the McCormick Theological Seminary. Dr. McAfee is to be at the college from January 15 to 18, and will have charge of a series of special meetings. Special chapel services will be held each morning, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, beginning at 9:30. Friends of the college are cordially welcomed to these services.

President Baumelkamp will attend the meetings of the Presbyterian College Union and of the Association of American Colleges in Chicago during the coming week.

Preliminary enrollment for courses for the second semester will begin January 13th. The final examinations for the first semester will be held January 30th to February 3rd. And final registration for the second semester will occur on February 6 and 7th.

Gymnasium work for the girls of the college will begin next Tuesday. The classes will meet on Tuesday and Thursday of each week at 3:30 p. m.

WILL REORGANIZE PERU GENDARMES
Lima, Peru.—By the A. P.—A Spanish police mission engaged by the government has arrived in Peru to reorganize the corps of gendarmes thruout the republic. The members of this mission are of the celebrated Spanish corps of the "Benemerita" members of which have organized the gendarmes of Mexico, Cuba, Uruguay, Costa Rica, Columbia, Salvador and Guatemala.

An American naval mission and a French army mission have for some years past had charge of the reorganization of these two important branches in Peru.

WILL MEASURE THE SWEAT OF MAN'S BROW

PITTSBURGH.—By The Associated Press.—Weighing the sweat of a man's brow is a task set for the United States Bureau of Mines station in Pittsburgh, according to A. C. Fieldner, station superintendent and supervising chemist. The work will be undertaken by scales so delicately adjusted that their accuracy has been tested to within approximately 1,200 of a pound.

To obtain material for the test it was said that men lifting weights in an enclosed chamber were to be subjected to various degrees of temperature, humidity and air movements which would then be exactly controlled with scientific instruments under the constant observation of physicists and physicians.

Fanciful as the work may seem it was pointed out that it has an intensely practical purpose. For instance, in the Montana copper mines high temperatures are frequently encountered where it must be known at what temperature the men may work in safety. The same problem arises in the steel mills where the men work in rather high temperatures with safety, provided there is fairly rapid movement of air. If the air movement is not sufficiently rapid the temperature rapidly may become dangerous.
